ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

This study has benefited from the encouragement and assistance of many veterans. My first and foremost thanks go to Dr. H. V. Inamdar, the ex-Principal of S.N.D.T. College, Pune, who encouraged me to initially undertake the research study. His inspiration and constant encouragement could keep the work moving. Dr. K. V. Shrikhande, the Principal at present, granted me the necessary liberties. I also owe a special debt to Dr. Mrs. Sulochana Nadkarni who, not only provided me the necessary fillip, but gave me invaluable guidance, help and encouragement and bore the inconvenience herself to keep me free. While Dr. B. G. Bapat, of the Gokhale Institute of Politics and Economics, suggested various points and readings, Dr. Anand Nadkarni, the ex-Joint Director of the same Institute, extended his kind assistance, enabling me to use the library facilities extensively.

Prof. Ramesh Panse, a friend in the truest sense, lent me all the moral support and kept vigil on the progress. Dr. S. G. Bapat, my colleague from the Commerce faculty, also deserves thanks for his intellectual discourses on various topics.
I am grateful to Mrs. Keerti Kelkar, Mrs. Madhura Joshi and Mr. R. W. Ghongade, my colleagues in the Deptt. for their encouragement.

The well-wishes and affection, shown by my students, are not only unforgettable but worth treasuring in my sweetest personal memories.

My brother, Mr. M. R. Nagarkar, of Telco, Pune, took deep interest in my work, made some valuable suggestions and supplied useful material.

My thanks are also due to export-managers of engineering units in Pune and Bombay, as also to M/s P. S. Shetty, K. A. Sharma, R. V. Ayyar and A.K.Francis of Engineering Export Promotion Council, Bombay, and Mr. B. L. Gur, of the Duty Drawback Deptt. of Customs Office, Bombay, for exchanging their views and giving me access to the data.

I also wish to sincerely thank the library-staff of the Gokhale Institute, S.N.D.T. College, Pune, the University of Poona and the Maharatta Chamber of Commerce, for making the reading material available to me. Mr. Somvanshi of the Maharatta Chamber deserves a special mention for providing liberal access to scarce reports. Mr. Punekar of Sakal, Pune also deserves my thanks.
I am indeed indebted to the S.N.D.T. University authorities, for granting me a study leave to hasten the completion of the work.

Mr. A. T. Vaidya, with his painstaking nature completed the typing work nicely and neatly, despite his ill-health.

The acknowledgements would be incomplete, without a very special mention of Dr. S. D. Kopardekar - my guide and Director, Prin. L. N. Welingkar Institute of Management Development and Research, Bombay. As a true guide, he assisted and guided me throughout the work despite his busy schedule.

( Arvind R. Nagarkar )