ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

Pursuing a Ph.D. degree is a both painful and enjoyable experience. It’s just like climbing a high peak, step by step, accompanied with bitterness, hardships, frustration, encouragement and trust and with so many people’s kind help. When I found myself at the top enjoying the beautiful scenery, I realized that it was, in fact, teamwork that got me there. Though it will not be enough to express my gratitude in words to all those people who helped me I would still like to give my many, many thanks to all these people.

First of all, I ‘d like to give my sincere thanks to my honorific guide, Dr. G. M. Karajgaonkar, MBBS MS (Gen. Surgery) PHD (Psychology), Research Guide in Department of Psychology, Dr Babasaheb Ambedkar Marathwada University, Aurangabad , who accepted me as his Ph.D student without any hesitation when I presented him my research proposal. Thereafter, he offered me so much advice, patiently supervising me, and always guiding me in the right direction. I’ve learned a lot from him, without his help I could not have finished my thesis work successfully.

Special thanks are also given to Hon’ble Dr. Narke H. J. Principal of Vinayakrao Patil Shikshan Prasarak Mandal’s Art, Commerce and Science College, Kannad Dist, Aurangabad. He is the one who was with me in my whole journey since beginning to the end. He also helped me to find appropriate guide for my work and also intelligent resourceful person for each and every part of my thesis. His suggestions for statistical part was very much countable. His encouragement and help made me feel confident to fulfil my desire and to overcome every difficulty I encountered. It is not sufficient to express my gratitude with only a few words.
I also appreciate the advice of Dr. Puri Parmeshwar A., Assist. Professor and Research Guide in Dept. of Psychology, Vivekanand Arts, Sardar Dalip Sing Commerce and Science College, Aurangabad and Dr. Mahendra Patil Assist Professor, for their help in statistical part of the thesis, and overall suggestions, rectifications and modifications, which enabled me to notice the weaknesses of my thesis and make the necessary improvements according to their guidance.

My sincere thanks go to Dr. Aparna Ashtaputre, Asst. Professor and Head, Dept. Of psychology, Dr Babasaheb Ambedkar Marathwada University, Aurangabad for sharing her experience and knowledge with me. I would also like to thank all my Pre PhD coursework colleagues and faculty members for giving me insight into research methodology.

I would like to thank all my friends and colleagues specially Dr. Vaishali N. Mehetre who assisted me for my thesis work she was like role model for me because her dedication and consistency towards her work inspired me to finish my thesis work consistently and dedicatedly.

I would like to appreciate and give sincere thanks to Dr. Sanjeev Saoji MD , Consultant Psychiatrist at Saoji-Tupkary Hospital, Head of Dept. of Psychiatry MGM Medical College, Aurangabad for allowing to counsel Cognitive Behavior therapy to his patients and contributing my research work by understanding me and providing me his assistance in the research work. Also I would like to thank Dr. Vijay P Pathade ,, Psychotherapist and CEO of Sumnanjali Hospital and Dr. Mangesh Kadam,, Consultant Psychiatrist at Saoji-Tupkary Hospital, Aurangabad. Our conversations during the research period enlightened my way of thinking and so I’d like to give my sincere thanks to them for their generous help.
“A father’s goodness is higher than the mountain, a mother’s goodness deeper than the sea.” Blessings from my father, Mr. Babu V Nila and mother, Mrs. Usha B Nila and all my family members brother Mr. Avinash Nila and sister Mrs Poonam Awake and also my in-laws. I am honoured to be their child. Lastly, also my husband Mr. Virendra Parne stood for me like a pillar of strength and supported me in my tough times against all odds is really appreciable and heartly thanks to him.

Pratibha Babu Nila