ACKNOWLEDGMENT

Many individuals have helped in various ways in the preparation of this thesis and it is my pleasure to record my indebtedness to them.

It gives me great pleasure to express my deep sense of gratitude to Professor V.N Misra, my research supervisor, for help, encouragement and guidance. Professor Misra taught me Archaeology in the classroom and in the field, which equipped me to undertake and complete this research. He has read through the entire manuscript, made numerous suggestions and corrections, and gave coherence and clarity to my style and thought, inspite of his myriad responsibilities. However, I alone am responsible for all the lacunae which still remain in the thesis.

My teacher Professor Abu Imam, Dhaka, Bangladesh, who brought me in the field of Archaeology and guided me to work at Pune under the supervision of Professor V.N. Misra, I am grateful to him.

I would like to acknowledge the help and encouragement given to me by Professor S.N. Rajaguru who always took great interest in my studies and helped me in most administrative matters regarding the University of Poona.

I express my thanks to all teachers at the Deccan College who taught me Archaeology both in the classroom and in the field.

I am thankful to the authorities of Jahangirnagar University, Dhaka, Bangladesh, for granting me three and a half years study leave from my job. The Ford Foundation provided me financial support for this research.
It is my pleasure to pay due regards to Professor Bazlur Rahman Khan and Professor Enamul Hoq Khan, Dhaka, Bangladesh, for their kind help and encouragement during my stay in India.

I am very thankful to Dr. Shafiqual Alam and his family for their kind help and affection in my first days in India.

I express my gratitude to Dr. Makkhanial, Dr. V.S. Shinde, Dr. R. Korisetter, and Dr. R.K. Ganjoo for their kind help and suggestions in my research work.

I record my thanks to Shri R.V. Gurjar, Dr. Sushma Deo and Dr. P.P. Joglekar for their keen assistance in computer work.

I am grateful also to Mr. Shamsul Alam Salim, and Mr. Atiquur Rahman, my colleagues in Bangladesh, for assisting me in all administrative matters regarding Jahangirnagar University, Dhaka.

The library and office staff of the Deccan College were always kind, courteous, and cooperative. I pay my due thanks to them.

I would like to acknowledge my debt to Mr. Selva Kumar, Mr. Joy Joseph, Mr. Tridib Sarma, Dr. P.C. Venkatasubbaiah, Mr. Jeewan Kharkwal, Mr. Azharul Islam Khan, Mr. Jubal Fernandes, Ms Poornima Kirloskar, Ms Sheena Panja, Ms Jyotsna Maurya, Ms Richa Jhaldihal and Ms Gurleen Bindra for their help and suggestions in my research work.

Lastly, I would like to thank Syed Md. Kamrul Ahsan, Mrs Ahsan, and Ms Seema Pawankar, my constant companions for the last three and a half years for their encouragement, guidance and companionship. Without them this work would never have reached completion.

I must record my appreciation to my eldest sister and brother-in-law for their cooperation and encouragement and for my parents whose constant encouragement and support made the endeavour worth while.
