Acknowledgement

Pursuing a Ph.D. was like a challenge for me. Looking back to where I started, I have gained immensely from all the experiences obtained in the last few years. None of this would have been possible without those who have helped, advised, opinionated, motivated and supported me. I would like to thank each and everyone who have made this thesis a reality.

Foremost, I would wish to express gratitude to my guide Dr. Suresh D. Jagtap for his guidance, support, motivation and encouragement at all times during this Ph.D. study. He has always set the sky as the limit and that has helped me excel. I could not have imagined having a better advisor and mentor for my Ph.D study. I am greatly indebted to him for always having time to guide me, despite numerous other projects and works that he is handling.

I gratefully acknowledge my co-guide Dr. Swati S. Mohite, Department of Obstetrics and Gynaecology, Bharati Ayurved Hospital, Pune. Her valuable guidance has played a major role in completion of a survey and clinical aspects.

Besides my advisor, I would like to thank Dr. Rahul Mungikar, Maharashtra State Biodiversity Board, Pune, Dr. Aniket Kuvalekar, Department of Diabetes, Interactive Research School for Health Affairs, Bharati Vidyapeeth Deemed University and Dr. Abhay Harsulkar, Department of Pharmaceutical Biotechnology, Poona College of Pharmacy, Bharati Vidyapeeth Deemed University, Erandwane, Pune for their insightful comments and encouragement, but also for the hard question which incented me to widen my research from various perspectives. I would also like to thank Dr. Rijwan Pinjari for his critical comments in this thesis.

I would like to acknowledge Prof. Prabhakar Ranjekar, former Director, IRSHA and Dr. A. C. Mishra, Director, IRSHA Bharati Vidyapeeth Deemed University, Pune, who provided an ideal environment to conduct my research work. It has been a big privilege to spend several years in the Department of Herbal Medicine.

My sincere thanks to Emeritus Prof. Dr. S. P. Mahadik, Department of Psychiatry and Health Behaviour, Georgia Regents University, Augusta, USA, for his support throughout this research work. His vision, comments and suggestions have been invaluable in shaping this thesis.

I am grateful to Late Prof. Ramanlal Kothari, former Principal; Dr. G. D. Sharma, Principal; Dr. Shamim Shaikh, Vice Principal and Dr. Bipinraj N. K. Assistant Professor, Rajiv Gandhi Institute of Information Technology and Biotechnology (RGITBT), Bharati Vidyapeeth Deemed University, Pune, for initiating my interest in research.

My sincere thanks to Dr. Pankaj Pawar, former scientist, IRSHA, for proper career guidance in the field of herbal medicine, his support and encouragement for research and scientists at IRSHA are also acknowledged.

I wish to take this opportunity to thank Herbs Foundation for partially funding the work discussed in this thesis. I would also like to thank Mr. Sanjay Veer, Mr. & Mrs. Malusare, Doctors and health workers for their help during the survey work. My sincere thanks to Dr. Manasi Deshpande, College of Ayurved, Bharati Vidyapeeth Deemed University, Pune for authentication of plant material.

Heartfelt thanks to my fellow labmates Mr. Saurav Mukherjee, Ms. Pallavi Nirmal, Ms. Aarti Narkhede, Ms. Meenal Mahajan and Ms. Shital Giramkar for creating memories that will last forever. I am also thankful to Mr. Bhanudas Chavan; Dr. Ninad Nangare, College of Ayurved, Bharati Vidyapeeth Deemed University, Pune, Medicinal Plants Conservation Centre (MPCC), Pune and FRLHT, Bangalore for providing photographs. I would also like to thank Mr. Rameshkumar Sakhre and Mr. Saina Pawra for their help in plant material collection.

Special thanks to Mrs. Kadam, Mr.Gavade, Mrs. Gajre, Mr. Patil, Mr. Nitin, Mr. Tushar, Mr. Ravi, Mr. Deshmukh and Ajay for all their help which facilitated the day-to-day laboratory work. Further, my acknowledgements to all the subjects who participated in this study and made it a success.

My acknowledgement will never be complete without the special mention of my friends and family. I would like to thank Mrs. Pujali S. Jagtap, Ms. Madhura Kumbare, Mr. Vikas Kalbhor, Mr. Shrikant Thopte and Mr. Pushpak Patil for their throughout support and encouragement. The love, support and encouragement of my family and friends has enabled me to complete this project. Heartfelt gratitude to my parents, Mr. Eknath Nagarkar (Pappa), Mrs. Kusum Nagarkar (Mummy), Ms. Gayatri (Sister) and Mr. Upendra (Brother) for being a cornerstone through these years of Ph.D. I’ll forever be indebted to them for this accomplishment. I am grateful to all my extended family members and friends for their blessings and patience that saw me through this study.

Last, but not the least, I thank Almighty God for giving me the inner strength throughout my work and those who missed mentioning unintentionally.
