

ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

This study would not have been possible without the help and support of a number of people to whom we owe a great debt.

Firstly, I'd like to express my sincere gratitude to my supervisor and teacher Dr. S. Sathyakumar for the continuous support of my PhD. study and related research, for his patience, motivation, and immense knowledge. His guidance helped me in all the time of research and writing of this thesis. I could not have imagined having a better advisor and mentor for my PhD. study.

I'd also like to thank Dr. George Schaller who always been an inspiration and his encouraging words and guidance keep me motivated during the study period.

Dr. V. B. Mathur, Director, Wildlife Institute of India (WII) is thanked for continuous support in many ways during the course of work. Dr. G. S. Rawat, Dean, Faculty of Wildlife Science, WII, is thanked for all encouragements and sharing his knowledge and experience from High altitude. Dr. V.P. Uniyal, Scientist, and Dr. K. Sankar, Scientist, WII are thanked for all the necessary support during the study. Dr. S. P. Goyal, Scientist, WII is thanked for extending support in the genetic analysis of the scats collected during the study. Mr. Qamar Qureshi, Scientist, WII and Dr. Panna Lal Programmer (Computer and GIS), WII are thanked for providing help and support in preparing GIS maps of the study sites.

My sincere thanks to Dr. Diwakar Sharma (Head, Monitoring and Evaluation, WWF-India) for his sincere and valuable guidance and encouragement extended to me throughout the study.
