ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

First of all, I thank almighty God without whose grace and mercy nothing is possible in this world.

Next, I would like to express my deep and sincere gratitude to my Supervisor, Dr. Sanjeev Sharma, Assistant Professor, Kurukshetra University, for his enlightening guidance, support and timely suggestions during the preparation of the thesis. Without his active cooperation, practical suggestions and endless patience this thesis would not have seen the light of the day.

I owe my most sincere gratitude to Dr. Mahavir Singh, NASSDOC, for his advice and crucial contribution, which made him a backbone of this research. He was a perennial source of inspiration and solace throughout the completion of this work.

I am equally thankful to my friends and colleagues Dr. Anil Singh, NCERT, Sh. S. N. Chari & Smt. Kanchan Vasudev, NASSDOC for their academic help and encouragement.

I also wish to thank Sh. Navin Kumar Singh, NIPFP for his assistance in statistical analysis and Sh. K.M.Rai, NASSDOC for his support during crucial part of data collection.

I would like to salute the help and encouragement received from my friends Dr. Naresh Kumar and Sh. Ajay Kumar Arora, especially towards the fag end of this study.

I must express my heartfelt thanks and deep gratitude to my mother

Smt. Kirti Deolia, who has always been a source of inspiration for me. On this occasion, I am badly missing my father, Late Sh. Bhuvan Bhushan Deolia. I would have made him a proud father, if he was around. I am equally missing the blessings of my elder brother Late Sh. Arvind Deolia, for instilling confidence in me. Thanks also to my sisters & brother-in-laws: Smt. Aruna & Dr. B.K.Dubey, Dr. Arpna & Sh. Satish Alia and Smt. Anamika & Sh. Sachin Joshi for their concern. I am grateful for the stimulus support received from my father-in-law Sh. R.S. Upadhyay.

I owe my loving thanks to my wife Smt. Pinki. Without her encouragement and understanding it would have been impossible for me to complete this work in time. I also thank my kids master Anugrah, Aachman and Arjun who were least disturbing and let me concentrate on work during the research period.

And finally, my very special thanks are due to the eminent authors whose learned books and articles I have consulted and quoted in this thesis.

I sincerely apologize for any inadvertent omissions in the acknowledgement.

Ashish Deolia
