EXPRESSION OF GRATITUDE

With deep gratitude I would like to express my thanks to many individuals but for whose encouragement, guidance and cooperation, it would not have been possible for me to complete this Thesis. It is not possible to mention all names individually but they will always be a part of my fond memory of happy days spent in the fulfilment of this Project.

Primary source of inspiration and strength for undertaking this project is memory of my dear Late father who cherished a keen desire that his children and grand-children dedicate their life to the pursuit of some creative activity and thus make their humble contribution to the development of human society.

My commencement of professional Insurance Career was with the encouragement from my dear Late brother-in-law - J.T.Ranadive (Retd.) Actuary of LIC. I fondly remember moments of discussion with him on the theme 'Insurance Challenge in Developing Countries' of my first research paper published in 1975 (Submitted to UNCTAD).

Mr. B.K.Shah, doyen of Indian Insurance Industry, who lead New India Assurance Company as Managing Director in post-independence decades, was a source of inspiration to many young officers like me who participated enthusiastically in the venture of building New India’s operation in International Market in the decade of 60s, when trumpets of Globalisation of Economic Enterprise were not sounded with fanfare of recent times. It became an unforgettable moment for me, when at his ripe old age of 85 years, Mr. Shah had enthusiastic discussion with me on the subject of Restructuring of Indian Insurance Industry dealt with in my paper ‘Plan 2100 for Indian General Insurance Industry’ published in May, 1993.

New India Assurance Company is my Alma-Mater in Professional Life. Words are inadequate to express my deep gratitude to this Institution which gave me professional training and an opportunity for exciting assignments for work in domestic and international markets.

I would like to express my sincere thanks to many dear colleagues and friends from all sectors of Indian Insurance Industry for their valuable contribution to the development of themes of my various research papers published during my professional career and post-retirement days. I would like to acknowledge with thanks the facility given to me by New India Assurance Co. Ltd. and National Insurance Academy to use books from their libraries for my research work.

Significant contribution to the development of my understanding of Global Insurance Scenario was made by my many professional colleagues and friends from all sectors of Global Insurance Market, during three eventful decades of my career in International Insurance Market. I would like to acknowledge with thanks support to my research activity from my communication with Chartered Insurance Institute, Association Internationale Pour L'étude de l’Economic de l’Assurance Geneve, Swiss Reinsurance Company, Munich Reinsurance Company, Non-Life Insurance Institute of Japan and Insurance Division of UNCTAD. Special grateful acknowledgment is due to Mitsui Marine and Fire Insurance Company Limited for giving me in post-retirement decade wonderful opportunity to promote Indo-Japanese collaboration in the field of General Insurance.

My sincere thanks are due to Pune University for giving me an opportunity for registration for Ph.D. degree in the Faculty of Commerce. Having graduated with a degree from this University after spending happy college days at Fergusson College, Pune, I regard it as a special privilege to offer my thesis for Ph.D. degree at this University after three and half decades of professional service out of India and the City of Pune.

But for the valuable guidance and direction given to me for this project during the past eight years by my Research Guide Dr.C.G.Vaidya (Retd) Principal, B.M.C.C., it would not have been possible for me to turn my professional experience into a Research Thesis. I would like to express my grateful thanks for his valuable support. I take this opportunity to express my thanks to my friend Mr.G.D.Pethe, (Retd.) Coordinator of Business Administration Department, Pune University for initial assistance in my efforts for securing approval for registration for Ph.D. degree and particularly for my introduction to Dr.C.G.Vaidya. I fondly remember initial efforts in motivating me to undertake research project by my cousin Dr.B.G.Deshpande and sister Dr.Kamal J Ranadive, both being inspiring examples of dedicated lifelong commitment to Research Activity. Guidance from time to time from my brother-in-law - Prof. E.V.Chitnis in application of scientific techniques for projection of future trends based upon current data is gratefully acknowledged.

Without secretarial assistance from my friend and ex-colleague from National Insurance Academy - Mr.Anil Bansode, DTP work and computer printing of thesis by M/s. Lord's Enterprises, Xeroxing and associated service from M/s. Kumar enterprises under personal supervision of my friend Mr.Kumar Shingare, Xeroxing service from M/s. D.G.Copiers and binding service from M/s. Wairkar Book Binding Works, timely compilation of thesis in presentable form would not have been possible.

Finally, I would like to express my affectionate gratitude to my dear companion of life - Prabha - for wonderful contribution to make success of our joint enterprise in life in spite of so many omissions on my part arising from my over-enthusiastic involvement in various projects undertaken during overseas stay and in India, ranging from professional and academic field to sports and socio-cultural activities. Special thanks are due to my children and other members of family for gifting me many books which provided valuable data on Global and Indian Macro-Scenario which formed backdrop for my study of Insurance Sector.

(IV)
To conclude, I hope that this effort will be of some use in building the House of Global Security for 21st century for enjoyment of my darling grandchildren with their friends from India and all over the world, for which I would like to offer my favourite prayer from the final stanza of Dnyaneshwari - the greatest poem of our Marathi language -

"May the Sinful discard their ways and choose the path of Goodness, May All creatures be friends, and find what they seek, and
He who makes Churning of this Universe his lifeblood, May he triumph over the seen and the unseen."
