

Acknowledgments

Researching is like mountaineering systematically, accompanied with courage, hard work, and bitterness; but once the researcher is on the high peak, she enjoys a pleasant feel of the pinnacle of success. Though the expression of her gratitude in words to all the helping people is not enough, I would still shower plenty of thanks to these people as the researcher alone could not accomplish the entire process of the work.

First and foremost, the researcher is immensely grateful to almighty God who bestowed health and will power to undertake the doctoral program and finally complete the thesis. The researcher commits to herself to acquire, refine, and transfer more knowledge to the Almighty's creatures in return for what he has gifted her.

Sincere thanks go to Prof. Aditya Shastri, the Hon'ble Vice Chancellor, Banasthali Vidyapith for his kind acceptance of the application overall and correspondence enabling her to enroll into the doctoral program. The researcher expresses her gratitude towards the Pro-Vice Chancellor of Banasthali Vidyapith, Prof. Ina Shastri and the Vice-President of Banasthali Vidyapith, Prof. Siddharth Shastri.

The researcher would like to thank Dr. Harsh Purohit, her thesis supervisor, Professor and Dean-WISDOM at Banasthali Vidyapith, Rajasthan for his thorough guidance, valuable suggestions, prompt communication, keen observation, and immense help throughout the study. For sure, without his support, the research would not have been even imagined to complete the study.

The researcher expresses her gratitude to Research Section, Banasthali Vidyapith, for the kind support in all administrative works. The researcher did not face any instance wherein administrative hassle came on the way.

I express my gratitude to my present employer, IILM, Institute for Higher Education, for providing me with an appropriate environment to carry on with my research. The institute has given me the platform to increase my knowledge at every step. I take the opportunity to thank Prof. Bhawna Aggarwal whose constant support helped me to gain knowledge in statistics and perform analysis in this study smoothly. I thank all my colleagues for encouraging me always.

I also thank my former employer, IIMT, for permitting me to undertake doctoral studies during my time as a Assistant Professor in IIMT.

I convey my respect to my daughters, Tiara and Samaira, who had understood my need of the hour and had always cooperated with me, never demanding anything irrationally. I express my gratitude to my husband, Dr. Umesh Gulla who had encouraged me constantly and taken care of every issue of the family, so that I can devote enough time to my studies. He had helped me in my project by getting the questionnaire filled and giving thoughtful inputs wherever he could. All words of thanks are less for both of them.
