ACKNOWLEDGMENTS

When I undertook this research I did underestimate the extent of cooperation that was needed from various government functionaries of two sensitive departments. Being a railway man myself, the approach to railway officers, who were my senior colleagues was relatively easy. But customs department was an unknown factor. I must therefore acknowledge the help and cooperation which all the officials in that department gave me once the research subject was discussed with them. My special thanks to Mr. V.K. Asthana, presently Chief Commissioner, Excise & Customs, Coimbatore; Mr. P.R.V. Ramnan, Joint Secretary Customs, New Delhi & Mr. Z. B. Nagarkar, Director NACEN, Mumbai for the detailed interviews and follow up data given by them. I would also like to express my sincere thanks to my senior officers from Indian Railways such as Mr. N.C Gupta; Mr. R.D. Saklani both of whom retired as executive directors of CRIS, Mr. S.K. Nanda, presently in charge of the PRS in New Delhi and all other persons from both customs and railways who have promptly given me their time and whatever data was required.

In my opinion the role of research guide is larger than a guru or a teacher in that he has to perform the role of not only a teacher but also a friend & philosopher. I have no hesitation in expressing my special gratitude to my guide Dr. Kamalakar B. Deo, who performed all the three roles well. In spite of his busy schedules he always found time for me and showed patience and gave timely guidance & encouragement to enable me to complete the research in a meaningful manner.

I will fail in my duty if I do not place on record, the constant motivation and encouragement provided by my mother Smt. Kalindi Gokhale, which has enabled me to complete the thesis, despite my working engagements. I have to also place on record the support given to me by my brother in laws Mr. Avinash N. Bhosale & Deepak B.Gore by making their personal computers & other peripherals available whenever I wanted them.

I also like to acknowledge the efforts put in by my stenographer, Miss Jayshree Jadhav, who not only typed the manuscripts untiringly but undertook the umpteen corrections and rewritings always with a smiling face.

Last but not the least my thanks to my wife who provided a constant support throughout the ups and downs during this endeavour.
