ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

I would like to express my appreciation to persons who have helped directly or indirectly in bringing my thesis in completion.

I wish to offer my deep regards to Dr. S. K. Bhogle, my Research Guide, for his keen interest in the work and constant inspiration which helped me to complete this thesis.

I am grateful to Mahachulalongkornrajavidyalaya Buddhist University and persons like Phrarachudhammaphorn abbot of Watthongdhammachat, Phrarachsitdhimongkol, Director of Pali-Obromsuksa school, and Thun Prayoonsri and Dr. Udom Pattannathabutra for their moral and financial support in making the research and preparation of this thesis possible.

I must thanks to Dr. Nonguksana Tepsawadi and Mr. Prashok (Chaisuwan). Their assistance in travel arrangements, in gathering research data and arranging interviews with military officers is greatly appreciated.

I have collected my research data from the Thammasart University library, Chulalongkorn University library and national library, Bangkok. Staff working in these libraries deserve special thank for their cooperation and timely help.

Last but not the least I wish to thank "OMEGA COMPUTER CENTRE". It was impossible to submit the thesis in the present form without their kind help.

(THONGSUKH LOUTHONG)
ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

I would like to express my appreciation to persons who have helped directly or indirectly in bringing my thesis in completion.

I wish to offer my deep regards to Dr. S. K. Bhogle, my Research Guide, for his keen interest in the work and constant inspiration which helped me to complete this thesis.

I am grateful to Mahachulalongkornrajavidyalaya Buddhist University and persons like Phrarachsudhammaphorn abbot of Watthongdhammachat, Phrarachsitdhimongkol, Director of Pali-Obromsuksa school, and Khun Prayoonsri and Dr. Udom Pattannathabutra for their moral and financial support in making the research and preparation of this thesis possible.

I must thanks to Dr. Nonguksana Tepsawadi and Mr. Prashok (Chaisuwan). Their assistance in travel arrangements, in gathering research data and arranging interviews with military officers is greatly appreciated.
I have collected my research data from the Thammasart University library, Chulalongkorn University library and national library, Bangkok. Staff working in these libraries deserve special thank for their cooperation and timely help.

Last but not the least I wish to thank "OMEGA COMPUTER CENTRE" for its timely help and sincere efforts which enabled me to submit the thesis in the present form.

(THONGSUKH LOUTHONG)
follow more egalitarian principles.

Chapter III Examine the military resources, that provide strength to the military and facilitate it to achieve its desired objective to rule the country.

Chapter IV. Highlights the strength and weaknesses of National Assembly and Thai bureaucracy, as these are the competing institutions with the military and claim for the political power. The method adopted by military to dominate these institutions have also been explained in this chapter.

Chapter V. Describes the socio-political conditions in Thailand that shape the attitude of the people towards politics and create suitable conditions for the smooth functioning of a particular institution or vice versa.

Chapter VI. Deals with the opportunity or specific situation that makes the condition favourable to military or other institution to intervene in political affairs of the country.

Chapter VII. Presents a summary of the discussion on various significant factors for military intervention and on that basis derived certain conclusions.