ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

It gives me immense pleasure to express my deep sense of gratitude to my esteemed supervisor Prof. A. Ramesha Rao for his excellent guidance and valuable discussions. His zealous encouragement led to the development of independent thinking and trying of new ideas. It was his constant guidance, keen interest and constructive criticism which led to the successful completion of the present work.

I express my sincere thanks to Prof. Prasanna Mohanty, Prof. Habibulla, the former Deans, and Prof. P.C. Kesavan, the present Dean of School of Life Sciences, for providing the necessary facilities.

I owe heartful thanks to Dr. Sudha Rao for her constant encouragement and advice which helped me a lot. And it is a great pleasure to thank Dr. Nitin and Nishit who always treated me as a member of their family.

I am thankful to all the members of the Cancer Biology Laboratory, Dr. Selven, Dr. Murthy, Dr. Banerjee, Jannu and Anju for their cooperation and understanding.

I have special appreciation for the help rendered to me by Ms Saran and Ms Shehla during my research and preparation of this thesis.

I am extremely grateful to Dr. Gokul Das, Cold Spring Harbor Laboratory, USA, for sending me Medroxyprogesterone acetate, Dr. Apurva Sarin for her help in doing photomicrography, Dr. (Mrs.) Bhanu Iyenger, Institute of Pathology, ICMR, for her valuable suggestions in selecting the photomicrographs and Dr. Kale for his constant encouragement and moral support.
I am very much thankful to Gayatri, Rajkishore, Raina, Venkat, Surbhi, Ramesh Babu, Venu and Sandhya for their constant cooperation throughout my work.

Thanks are also due to Mr. Kalicharan and Mr. Bhishan Chand for their laboratory assistance, Mr. Chinmay Nath and Mr. Saini for photography and drawings and all the staff members of the animal house, for animal maintenance. The staff members of the Central Instrument facility, also deserve my thanks for their help in using the sophisticated gadgets.

I also thank Mr. Gajanan Hegde and Mr. Saji for their excellent typing.

I also owe my thanks to all my friends with whom I moved during my memorable stay in the Jawaharlal Nehru University, New Delhi, and shared my happy and sorrow moments.

I gratefully acknowledge the financial assistance provided by University Grant Commission, India.

Finally I would like to mention the tremendous cooperation and encouragement by my parents, brothers and sister-in-laws whose constant moral support, love and affection remained the main source of my strength.
