

LIST OF TABLES

	Page
Chapter III:
Table No.
3.1 Name of the Village along with Total Area, etc. of the Villages required by Heavy Engineering Corporation for various Industrial purposes	110
3.2 The Place of Settlement of Displaced villages	112
3.3 Number of Households, Percentage of Scheduled Caste, Scheduled Tribe and Educated persons to Total Population of the Displaced Villages	113
3.4 Sectorwise Distribution of Workers of Displaced villages	115
3.5 Distribution of Cultivating Households in Ranchi District, 1961	118
3.6 Chief Means of Livelihood in the Past and Present in the uprooted villages	123
3.7 Migration to Urban units having 100,000 and above population classified by Sex, broad Age-groups, education and in case of workers by Occupational Divisions, Ranchi, 1971	127-28
3.8 Classification by Industrial category of Workers and Non-Workers according to Main activity in Urban Agglomeration of Ranchi, 1971	132
3.9 Classification by Literacy and Industrial Category of Workers and Non-Workers according to Main activity among Scheduled Tribes in Urban Agglomerations of Ranchi, 1971	136
3.10 Categorywise Distribution of Permanent H.E.C. Employees, as on 1.6.1986	139
3.11 Ethnic Composition of Permanent H.E.C. Employees by Sex	140

Chapter IV:

4.1	Age Distribution of Sample Executives	150-51
4.2	Sex Distribution of Sample Executives	151
4.3	Caste and Religious Affiliation of Sample Executives	152
4.4	Educational Background of Sample Executives	156-57
4.5	Migration Pattern of Sample Executives on the basis of Place of Birth	158
4.6	Employment Career of Sample Executives	159
4.7	Occupational Status in Previous Concerns of Sample Executives	160
4.8	Last Place of Work in Case of Previous Work Experience of Sample Executives	161
4.9	Change of occupation from Industrial and Non-Industrial Activities	161
4.10	Pattern of Migration of experienced Sample Executives	162
4.11	Duration of Work in Previous Concerns and in H.E.C.	163
4.12	Time Taken to find First Job by Sample Executives	165
4.13	Organizational Experience of the Sample Executives	165
4.14	Duties and Responsibilities of the Sample Executives	168
4.15	Occupational Aspirations of the Sample Executives in the Present Concern	172
4.16	Occupational Aspirations of the Sample Executives outside the Present Concern	173
4.17	Importance of Several Considerations in getting Promotion in an Organization	175
4.18	Caste Preference for Advancement	177

4.19	Satisfaction Level of the Sample Executives	178
4.20	Various Correlates of Positive Attitude towards job	179
4.21	Various Correlates of Negative Attitude towards job	180
4.22	Important Considerations in accepting a job by Sample Executives	182
4.23	Attitude to Change Present job and Place of Work	183
4.24	Formal Relations with Seniors, Juniors and Workers of Equal Status	184
4.25	Various Caste Combinations in Informal Social Relationships	187
4.26	Importance of Occupational Status in Informal Social Relationships	188
4.27	Executives' Attitude towards Management	189
4.28	Executives' Attitude towards their Association	190
4.29	Executives' Attitude towards the Strength of their Association	191
4.30	Executives' Attitude on various suitable Methods of Solving the Problems of employees of the Corporation	192
 Chapter V:
5.1	Age Distribution of Sample Supervisors	198
5.2	Sex Distribution of Sample Supervisors	199
5.3	Caste and Religious Affiliation of Sample Supervisors	200
5.4	Educational Background of Sample Supervisors	201
5.5	Migratory Status of Sample Supervisors on the basis of Place of Birth	202-3

5.6	Employment Career of Sample Supervisors	203
5.7	Last Place of Work in case of Previous Work Experience of Sample Supervisors	204
5.8	Duration of Work in Previous Concerns and in H.E.C.	205
5.9	Time Taken to find First Job by Sample Supervisors	207
5.10	Organizational Experience of the Sample Supervisors	208
5.11	Duties and Responsibilities of the Sample Supervisors	209
5.12	Occupational Aspirations of the Sample Supervisors in Present Concern	212
5.13	Occupational Aspirations of Sample Supervisors outside the Present Concern	213
5.14	Importance of various Considerations in getting Promotion as indicated by Sample Supervisors	214
5.15	Caste Preference for Advancement by Sample Supervisors	215
5.16	Satisfaction Level of Sample Supervisors	216
5.17	Various Correlates of Positive Attitude towards job	217
5.18	Various Correlates of Negative Attitude towards job	218
5.19	Important Considerations in accepting a Job by Sample Supervisors	219
5.20	Attitude to change Present Job and Place of Work	220
5.21	Formal Relations with Seniors, Juniors and Workers of Equal Status	221
5.22	Various Caste Combinations in Informal Social Relationships of Sample Supervisors	222-23

5.23	Importance of Occupational Status in Informal Social Relationships	223
5.24	Supervisors' Attitude towards Management	224
5.25	Supervisors' Attitude towards their Associations	225
5.26	Supervisors' Attitude towards the Strength of their Associations	226
5.27	Supervisors' Involvement in Strike	226
5.28	Various Methods of Solving the Problems of Workers by Sample Supervisors	228

Chapter VI:

6.1	Age Distribution of Sample Technical and Non-Technical Workers	232
6.2	Sex Distribution of Sample Technical and Non-Technical Workers	233
6.3	Caste and Religious Affiliation of Sample Technical and Non-Technical Workers	233
6.4	Educational Background of Sample Technical and Non-Technical Workers	235
6.5	Migration Pattern of Sample Technical and Non-Technical Workers	237
6.6	Employment Career of Sample Technical and Non-Technical Workers	238
6.7	Occupational Status of Sample Technical and Non-Technical Workers in Previous Concerns	239
6.8	Last Place of Work in Case of Previous Work Experience of Sample Technical and Non-Technical Workers	240
6.9	Migration Pattern of Experienced Sample Technical and Non-Technical Workers	241
6.10	Duration of Work of Experienced Sample Technical and Non-Technical Workers in Previous Concerns and in H.E.C.	243

6.11	Reasons of Leaving their Previous Concerns	244
6.12	Time Taken to find First Job by Sample Technical and Non-Technical Workers	246
6.13	Organizational Experience of the Sample Technical and Non-Technical Workers	247
6.14	Duties and Responsibilities of the Sample Technical and Non-Technical Workers	250
6.15	Technical and Non-Technical Workers' Attitude towards Problem associated with Performance of Duties	251
6.16	Various Problems associated with Performance of Duties of Sample Technical and Non-Technical Workers	252
6.17	Occupational Aspirations of the Sample Technical and Non-Technical Workers	254
6.18	Occupational Aspirations of the Sample Technical and Non-Technical Workers outside the Present concern	256
6.19	Important Considerations in accepting a Job by Sample Technical and Non-Technical Workers	256
6.20	Importance of Several Considerations in getting Promotion	257-58
6.21	Caste Preference for advancement by Sample Technical and Non-Technical Workers	259
6.22	Satisfaction Level of the Sample Technical and Non-Technical Workers	260
6.23	Various Correlates of Positive attitude towards Job	260
6.24	Various Correlates of Negative attitude towards Job	261
6.25	Attitude to change Present Job and Place of Work	262
6.26	Formal Relations with Seniors, Juniors and Workers of Equal Status	263

6.27	Various Caste Combinations in Informal Relationships of Technical and Non-Technical Workers	264
6.28	Various Status Combinations in Informal Relationships	266
6.29	Participation in Union Activities of Sample Technical and Non-Technical Workers	267
6.30	Nature of Participation of Sample Technical and Non-Technical Workers in Union activities	268
6.31	Various Reasons of Non-Participation in Union	269
6.32	Details of Sample Technical and Non-Technical Workers' attitude towards Management and Union	270
6.33	Various Methods of Solving the Problems of Workers by Sample Technical and Non-Technical Workers.	284