ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

I find words inadequate to express my profuse gratitude to my Advisor, Professor V.S. Mani, for his judicious and indepth scrutiny of the manuscript which has led to prodigious improvement of this thesis. Having deep admiration for his profound learning, I owe an everlasting debt to him.

Fond Tributes are recorded to my revered teachers, Professor R.P. Anand and Professor Rahamtullah Khan for the guidance and encouragement I have received from them over the years. Professor Anand was gracious to give detailed comments on an earlier draft of the thesis. I deeply appreciate his comments and criticism. Professor Khan has always readily helped me, and in all possible ways. Dr. Y.K. Tyagi and Dr. B.S. Chimni have given me useful advice from time to time, and assistance from Dr. Bharat Desai has enabled me to see the work through. Thanks are due also to Professor P.N. Mukherjee, Department of Sociology, Indian Statistical Institute, and Professor Kusum Chopra, Centre for the Study of Regional Development for helping me generously in my academic pursuits.

Professor Edward W. McWhinney, Simon Fraser University, Canada, was the one who first introduced me to the subject and encouraged me to undertake research in the area.
Dr. Kishore Singh, consultant at UNESCO, helped me at the conceptual level.

During my field study at the United Nations, UNESCO, and the International Institute of Air and Space Law, University of Leyden, I obtained invaluable guidance from a number of experts on the subject. It is a pleasure to recall in this connection the kindness received from Dr. N. Jasentuliyana, Director, U.N. Outer Space Affairs Division, New York; Mr. Morten Giersing, Chief, Section of Free Flow of Information and Communication Research, UNESCO, Paris; and Professor I.H.P.H. Diederiks-Verschoor, President Emeritus, International Institute of Space Law, Paris.

Mr. Richard E. Butler, Secretary-General of ITU, Mr. M. Claudin, Executive Secretary of IAF, Dr. W. Brado, Assistant Director of Operations, ESA, Mr. David Sagar, Assistant General Counsel, INMARSAT, Mr. Joseph B. Nyawaya, Senior Executive, INTELSAT and Professor Karl-Heinz Bockstiegel, Cologne University, have sent me invaluable research material and responded helpfully to my endless queries. My grateful thanks to all of them.

I would also like gratefully to record the assistance received from the staff of a host of libraries, particularly, the United Nations Information Centre Library, the Department of Science and Technology Library, the

I am grateful to the school of International Studies of the Jawaharlal Nehru University, for awarding me a grant towards conducting a field study at the United Nations, UNESCO, and the University of Leyden; and to the Indian Council of Social Science Research for awarding me a short term fellowship.

Friends, Purva, Shrirang, Sunil, Upendra, Mahesh, Rahul, Bhupendra, Sanjay, Shailendra, Zaidi, Neeraj and Hirendra are heartily thanked for their concern and assistance. Milind and Dr. Ramakrishna deserve special thanks for their contribution in the preparation of the thesis.

Lastly, I must thank Mr. Mrityunjaya for taking keen interest in processing the manuscript with perfection. I am grateful to him.

New Delhi
19 August 1991

( Mahendra S. Sisodia )