

ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

Quiet support and encouragement from Professor Parimal Kumar Das, of the Division of Southeast Asian and Southwest Pacific Studies have kept me going through the preparation of this work. He not only supervised my work and took a keen interest, but inspired me to work hard and with dedication. I owe him a deep sense of gratitude.

Prof. S.K. Das, of the Centre for Studies in Diplomacy, International Law and Economics, my advisor, gave valuable suggestions which went a long way in making this work fruitful and worthwhile. I would like to register my thanks to him. I am also grateful to Dr. B.D. Arora, Dr. Ganganath Jha, Dr. J.N. Bhatt, Dr. (Mrs.) Manmohini Kaul for giving me encouragement from time to time in various ways. Special thanks are due to the Dean, SIS and the Centre Chairmen and the Administrative Staff for their kind co-operation.

People whom I met and who have been kind in giving assistance during my field work in Australia include Professor Desmond Ball, Head, Strategic and Defence Studies Centre (SDSC), Research School of Pacific Studies (RSPacS), Dr. J. Girling, Mr. Greg Fry, Mr. Peter Jennings of the Department of International Relations, RSPacS, Dr. R.V. Cole of National Centre for Development Studies (NCDS), Mr. Chris Merchant of South Pacific Branch, Department of Foreign Affairs and Trade, Canberra, Dr. William Sutherland of Department of Political Science, ANU, Dr. Dilip Dutta of Department of Economics, University of Sydney, Professor Tim McDonald of the Research Institute for Asia Pacific, University of Sydney, Mr. Dale Keeling of the Fiji Independent News Service, Mr. Ted Wheelright, a former Professor of Economics in the University of Sydney, Dr. Bruce Knapman of the University of Technology, Sydney, Mr. Brijlal, of the University of Hawaii, both experts on Fijian Affairs, Professor Grant McCall of the Centre of South Pacific Studies, University of New South Wales, Sydney, Ms Johanna Sutherland and Dr. Ravi Tomar of Parliamentary Library of Australia. Ms Helen Wilson, Ms Marelene and Mr. J.M. Malik of the SDSC, RSPacS, ANU, Canberra, Ms Meredith, Ms Rosa and Ms Mary. I duly acknowledge their assistance. My thanks are also due to Late Professor Ernst Utrecht, a Visiting Professor to the Centre who supervised one of my course works in Ph.D.. His wife, Ms Elien proved to be very helpful in providing references in Australia. I am thankful to her too. I am also grateful to Dr. V.R. Panchmukhi, Director Research and Information System for Non-aligned and Other Developing Countries (RIS), New Delhi for giving valuable comments.

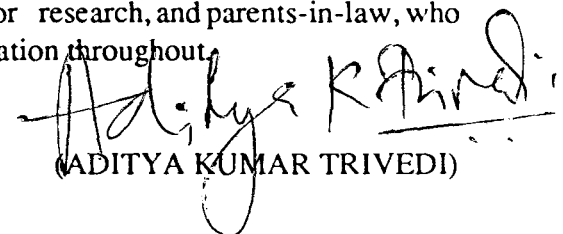

Institutions which provided research material assistance in Aus tralia are National Library of Australia, Canberra, Department of Foreign Affairs and Trade, Canberra, Research School of Pacific Studies, ANU, Canberra, Parliamentary Library of Australia, Canberra, Peace Research Centre, RSPacS, ANU, Menzies Library, ANU, Canberra, Fisher Library, Univ. of Sydney, NCDS, ANU, Bibliotech, ANUTECH, ANU, South Pacific Trade Commission, SDSC, Research School of Pacific Studies, ANU, Research Institute for Asia-Pacific, Univ. of Sydney, Fiji Independent News Service, Sydney, Centre for South Pacific Studies, University of New South Wales, Sydney, Indian High Commission in Canberra. In India, Federation of Indian Chamber of Commerce and Industry (FICCI), New Delhi, Associated Chambers of Commerce and Industry (ASSOCHAM), New Delhi, Australian High Commission, New Delhi, New Zealand High Commission, New Delhi, Institute for Defence and Strategic Analysis (IDSA), New Delhi, RIS, New Delhi, Indian Institute of Foreign Trade (IIFT), New Delhi, Indian Council for Research in International Economic Relations (ICRIER), New Delhi, India Investment Centre (IIC), New Delhi, Comptroller and Auditor General (CAG), Government of India, New Delhi, JNU Library, New Delhi have been of great help in completing the thesis. I also take this opportunity to thank the School of International Studies, JNU, for providing me an overseas study grant and sending me to Australia for field work. I duly acknowledge the financial support in the form of fellowship given by the Indian Council for Social Science Research (ICSSR), New Delhi. I am also thankful to the staff of the JNU library for their kind co-operation.

I owe a special gratitude to Dr. V. Gaurishanker, a Visiting Professor to the Centre for Studies in Diplomacy, International Law and Economics, SIS, JNU, for his valuable support and encouragement. I value the kind co-operation he extended to me, and also that from Mr. K.K. Malik. Many of my friends in JNU and outside, Manoj Arora, Sai Kumar, S. Rajappa, Anil Srivastav and Rajneesh Goel and Veena deserve a special word of thanks for giving me encouragement at various stages.

I have no words to express my feelings for my wife Jyoti. She not only shared with me the toil for long hours but also contributed greatly by going through the draft and providing specialised computer support. But for her keen interest and involvement, this work could not have been completed.

Last, but not the least, I wish to express my gratitude to my parents and my brother and sisters who inspired me to go in for research, and parents-in-law, who continued to extend moral support and co-operation throughout.

(ADITYA KUMAR TRIVEDI)