This journey has contributed by many people directly or indirectly, this is the moment when I can look back and heartily acknowledge all of them.

To Dr. Ranjan C. Khunt, my research supervisor for her ablest guidance, constant encouragement and masterly suggestions. I thank her for the freedom of thought, trust and expression, which she bestowed upon me.

To Prof. Anamik Shah, for his mentorship, for providing excellent laboratory facility at Centre of Excellence and allowing a naive person like me to learn and use analytical instruments housed at CoE.

To Dr. P. H. Parsania, Former Head, Department of Chemistry, Dr. Bipin Pandey (Director, CoE) and Dr. Rajesh Kakadia (Asst. Director, CoE) for their support and inspiration.

To Parth Manvar, beloved friend for wonderful moments at CoE. To Sabera Bijani and ViKi for 'creating problem' by providing samples. To Hetal Jebaliya (baa), Batuk Dabhi and Paras Vekariya my seniors for technical support.

To Parth Bhatt for language suggestion, Chintan Jethva for nice and short introduction to Matlab, Nimit Godhani for helping me with \LaTeX_.

To my colleagues Pratik, Kalpesh, Prachi, Shraddha, Khushal (das), KK, Yashwant, Kaushik, Jagriti, Jyoti, Ashish(rpm), Pratiksha, Jayendra, Shruti, Shahrukh, Bhagyawanti, Twinkal and Madhvi for encouraging environment at workplace.

To Centre of Excellence, National Facility For Drug Discovery Center, Saurashtra University, Rajkot for Financial support. To CoE administration staff members Nishant, Hardiksinh, Vaibhav and Shailendrasinh for uninterrupted support.

To Rohit, Pramod, Tejas, Bhavik, my hostel mates for enjoyable stay at hostel and make me feel at home. To Rajesh, Jigar, Mihir, Milan, Wilson, friends for teaching me way of life.

To Krishnaben and Parshottambhai, my parents for love and freedom, Kuldeep, my brother for moral support, Chetana, Mrugesh, Rucha, Ramaben and Jerambhai my family members for their love and care.

To Open source imitative, R and \LaTeX for their cause.
