CHAPTER - III

OBJECTIVES

The following are the important objectives of the study:

- To find out year-wise publication of articles and references.

- To recognize the source wise and year wise distribution of Current Science Journal research output Scientists.

- To examine the growth rate and exponential growth rate of Current Science Journal research output during period of 1982 to 2012.

- To ascertain the authorship and collaboration pattern of scientists.

- To find out country-wise distribution of articles.

- To find out most prolific authors, most productive institution and author productivity.

- To determine the degree of collaboration.