CONTENTS

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Acknowledgement</th>
<th>Pages</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td>i - iii</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

| Abbreviation   | iv    |

| List of Tables | v - vi |

| Chapter I: Introduction: Theories and Concepts | 1 - 31 |

| Chapter II: Review of Literature | 32 - 64 |

- Note and methodology
- Objectives of the study
- Assumptions
- Universe of the study
- Field of study
- Method of data collection
- Field work chart

| Chapter III: Socio-Historical Profile of Sukinda Region | 65 - 107 |

- Social profile
- Ecological dimensions
- Historical background
- Political Institutions during the colonial and pre-colonial times

| Chapter IV: Socio-Economic Background of Tribal Villages in the Sukinda Region | 108 - 143 |

- Population and occupational pattern
- Income and expenditure
- Developmental schemes for the area and tribals
- Management aspect
- Health dimension

| Chapter V: Changing Dimensions of the Duburi Market | 144 - 182 |

- Field work tables
- Pattern of interaction
- Market trend observed
CHAPTER-VI: CHANGING DIMENSION OF THE TATA MINES MARKET

Field work tables
Pattern of interaction
Market trend observed

CHAPTER-VII: COMPARATIVE ANALYSIS OF THE DUBURI AND TATA MINES MARKETS

Variance in commodity selling in both the markets
Compare and contrast

CHAPTER-VIII: CONCLUSION

Analysis of the historical and empirical data
Overview of the chapters
Researchable areas

BIBLIOGRAPHY

APPENDICES

GLOSSARY