Acknowledgement

It gives me immense pleasure to thank for the assistance from all quarters and from all those who helped in successfully completing this thesis.

I record my heartfelt gratefulness to Professor R.C. Sharma, for his keen interest, valuable guidance and support throughout the course of research.

I owe sincere thanks to Dr. S.S. Deora for his suggestions and help. I also owe a lot to Dr. Manoranjan Mohanty, who remained a constant source of encouragement. Dr. Amitabh Mattoo and Dr. Kanti P. Bajpayee, other faculty members of CIPOD and Khullarji deserve special thanks.

I owe sincere thanks to Professor Sudesh Nangia, Professor Amitabh Kundu, Professor M. Vemuri, Dr. Satish Kumar and other faculty members of CSRĐ, JNU, for their contributions through discussions on wide ranging issues. I also express my deep gratitude to Professor G. N. Jha, Professor S.K. Jha, Professor Anand Kumar and Professor Abhijeet Pathak, who always motivated me to work hard.

I would be failing if I do not acknowledge the renowned scientist M.S. Swaminathan and Ms. Vandana Shiva and Professor Ali Mohammad of AMU, Aligrah whose lectures on different occasions, injected several innovative ideas. I am also thankful to Dr. Dayanath Jha, Director NCAP, Mr. Kanhaiya Chaudhary of ICAR and Professor B.N. Saraswati of IGNCA for their guidance and materials.
I do express my deep gratitude to Mr. Michael Vlassoff the country Representative of UNFPA in India and Dr. Geeta Narayan for their valuable suggestion and opinions on population issue. I must thank Dr. Radhakrishnan of UNDP, Dr. Huma Masood of UNESCO, Ms. Paravati of WFP, Mr. Sudarshan Rodriguez of UNEP, Mr. Jyoti Shankar Tewari of USAID, Professor Arun Kumar Mishra of NCERT and Professor Y.P. Aggarwal of NIEPA for their help and encouragement.

Material help and support from Mr. S.M. Humayun Kabir of SPARSO, Bangladesh deserve special mention. I am highly indebted to him for timely help, without which it would have been difficult for me to complete this work. Mr. Budhadeb of Bangladesh currently studying at JNU, New Delhi, also helped me by providing materials. I thank them from the bottom of my heart. I am also thankful to Dr. S.C. Ghulati, Professor Kanchan Chopra and Dr. P.N. Maribhatt for invaluable suggestions.

I am also thankful to several libraries in Delhi. These are: Jawaharlal Nehru University, ICAR; the Planning Commission; UNDP; FAO; Centre for Science and Environment; Indian Institute of Environment and Ecology; and the Ratan Tata Library of Delhi school of Economics. Help from the Documentation section of school of international studies and Centre for the study of Regional Development, both at JNU, is duly acknowledged.

Ms. Sushma Bomjan has been the constant source of inspiration and perennially inspired me to work hard. I am extremely thankful to my friends, who not only motivated me but also came out with suggestions and help. Here at the first place I would like to thank Rajeev Kumar Sharma, Prafullajee, Nawal, Vimal, Savyasachi and senthil. Thanks are also due to Sandeep, Inhtiaque, Manjeet, DD, Tana, Avadhesh, Rajeev Azad, Birendraji, Nirbhay, Preem, Vandana, Ravi, Naveenji, Shailendra and Sudhir Sir.

I must thank Mrs. Kameswari Viswanathan who patiently helped me in getting this thesis typed. I also thank Sanjay Photostat for Xeroxing and binding.

Above all, I am always thankful to my parents and other family members whose blessing, affection and guidance kept me motivated in all my endeavours.

Mrityunjay Mohan Jha.
