This is a document of reflections. It gives me an occasion for recapitulation; for remembering the diverse experiences. There were many. Some happy, most of them agonising. Thanks to the support of many, it was not difficult for me to sail through.

I express a deep sense of gratitude for my supervisor Dr. Anand Kumar for helping me carry out this mammoth exercise. He taught me the art of perseverance and logical application of mind, besides helping me with his invaluable insights into the subject matter, which is so close to his heart. His grasp of the media-society dynamics and his ability to comprehend and relate things logically provided me an opportunity to learn and experiment. The seven years long association with Dr. Kumar has been perhaps the best learning experience for me in my life.

I am indebted to three great scholars: Shri Ajit Bhattacharjea Director, Press Institute of India, Shri G. S. Bhargava, eminent journalist, and Shri Rajiv Vora, Editor, Gandhi Marg, for providing me rich materials for the sections on Gandhi and JP.

I have learnt and benefited a lot from my long association with Ms. Kalpana Rajaram, Editor, Spectrum India, and Ms Pervin Malhotra, eminent career counsellor. I take this opportunity to express my deep sense of gratitude to them.

My family: Simmi & Anil Kumar; Nishi & Shashi Shekhar; Premanjali and Rajnish Anand; Adarsh, Anurag, Vanya, Rishabh, Ritwik and Sundaram were my pillars of strength. I continue to build on them!

Old friends in the media always came forward with a lot of help_moral and otherwise. I specially thank Dr. Y.C. Halan, Jaya, Vibha, Biswadeep, and Tiwariji of The Hindustan Times; Devesh, Shivnath, Tanmaya, Mihir, and Swati of The Indian Express; Rajiv of Business Standard; Yeshi of The Pioneer; Dhiraj of Jain TV; Umesh Upadhaya of Zee TV.
Old timers did their best to keep me in high spirits! Thanks Debu, Dubey, Sachin, Manoj Singh, Trilok, Deepak Purohit, Amar, Dr Shiv, Vijay Singh, Vijay Srivastava, Shyam Kishor, Alok.
