ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

First of all, I would like to express my deep sense of gratitude to my supervisor Prof. Nissar Ahmed Barua for his guidance and encouragement during the course of this research work.

I would like to express my sincere thanks to the Department of Education (Higher), Government of Assam and UGC (NERO) for granting me study leave that was of much help for completing the work.

I would like to thank all the faculty members of the Department of Economics, Gauhati University for their constant support and valuable suggestions.

I offer my sincere thanks to the authority and staff of Central Library, IIT, Guwahati, library of Omeo Kumar Das Institute of Social Change and Development (OKDISCD) and K.K.Handique Library of Gauhati University for their help during the research work.

My sincere thanks go to my colleagues in the Department of Economics, Pandu College, Dr. Minakshi Bhattacharyya, Dr. Binita Tamuli Barman and Dipanjali Haloi for their help and encouragement.

I offer my heartiest thanks to all my research scholar friends in the Department of Economics, Gauhati University, especially Nandita Goswami, Namita Das, Sangita Hazarika, Gangarani Das, Manisha Bhattacharyya, N. R. Kalita, Arati Bharali, Kasturi, Sabina, Dipjyoti, Bipul, Tinku, Rashid, Nurzamal, Mandakini, Rimee, Sampurna and Tulika for their invaluable help and support.

I offer my sincere thanks to Dr. Saswati Choudhury and Dr. Kalyan Das of OKDISCD for their valuable suggestions.

I would like to thank everyone who helped me during the process of data collection. My sincere thanks go to Dr. Navaneeta Baruah, Assistant Professor, Department of History, Pandu College and Mr. Gunajit Das of Life Insurance Corporation of India. My thanks go to all the officers and staff of various government departments, office of the Regional Provident Fund Commissioner, EPFO, Guwahati, State Bank of India, Dispur Branch and that of Assam Tea Employees Provident Fund Organisation.

I am forever grateful to my parents and my daughter for their constant encouragement and cooperation during the entire course of the study without which the research work would not have been possible.

I also take this opportunity to remember with gratitude the encouragement I received from my late husband Biswajit Choudhury for starting the Ph.D. work, although he did not live to see even the start.

I offer my heartiest thanks to all my friends and relatives for their words of encouragement and support.

Angana Barua
