Preface

The present thesis, "A Study of a Temple Town and Its Priesthood" is the outcome of the research work for the Ph. D. Degree done by me at the University Department of Anthropology and Sociology, located at the Deccan College Postgraduate and Research Institute, Poona.

The first outline of the present thesis was prepared and it was submitted on 29th February 1964 at the instruction of my research guide Dr. (Mrs.) I. Karve. The data was collected during 1964-65. I am very much grateful to Dr. (Mrs.) I. Karve for her thought-provoking guidance and constant encouragement throughout the period of research. The present Thesis would not have been what it is, without her instructions and able guidance. I am equally grateful to Dr. S.M. Katre and Dr. N.D. Sankalia, the Director and Joint Director respectively of the D.C.P.R.I. for selecting my name for the award of Ph.D. research scholarship of the D.C.P.R.I. from 23rd March 1965 to Aug. 1967. I am also obliged for my appointment as a Field Assistant in the Department of Anthropology and Sociology from 1st September 1967, as this appointment enabled me to complete this research work.

Shri B.P. Bahirat, the President of the Pandharpur Samshodhan Mandal and Shri Shankar Ramchandra Badwe, Secretary of the same Institution, supplied all the unpublished records to me and Shri Bhide and M.R. Haridas assisted in its scrutiny. Shri N.D. Badwe, Ex-Chairman of the Badwe Committee and Shri P.B. Dingre of the Sewadhari Committee supplied the two photo copies of the deity Vitthal for inserting them in this Thesis.
Besides this, I have also received cooperation from the councillors and staff of the Pandharpur Municipal Council.
I got valuable help from the members of three prominent priestly Organisations in Pandharpur viz. the Badwe Committee, the Samast Sewadhari Committee and the Samast Utpat Committee.
I am very much thankful to all of them.

Dr. M.S. Mate, Dr. Y.B. Damle, Dr. Mrs. S. Patwardhan, Prof. V.G. Pundlik and the teachers in the Department of Anthropology and sociology showed their interest in my work from the very beginning, and I thank them sincerely. The manuscript of the Thesis was typed by Shri V.P. Sahasrabudhe in reasonable time.
