This study was carried out in the Centre for Earth Science and Studies, Akkulam, Thiruvananthapuram, Kerala, India during the years 2008-2011. I would like to thank the director of the institution, Dr. N.P. Kurian for providing the facilities for this study. This study was supported by the Ministry of Earth Sciences (MoES), Govt. of India as part of its sponsored national project entitled “Coastal Ocean Monitoring and Prediction System” (COMAPS-3)

It is with deep gratitude, that I express my sincere thanks to my research guide, Dr. P. P. Ouseph, former Head, Chemical Sciences Division, Centre for Earth Science Studies (CESS), Thiruvananthapuram, and co-guide Dr. V. P. Potty (Retd), Principal Scientist in Microbiology, CTCRI, Thiruvananthapuram for their invaluable guidance, personal attention, constant encouragement and sympathetic approach throughout the research period and also the completion of this manuscript. The knowledge I’ve gained from them in both microbiology and in basic scientific principles will be forever remembered and appreciated as I advance through my professional career. In addition to the individuals above, I would also like to thank Dr. K. Narendra Babu, Dr. P.K. Omana and Dr. K. Anoopkrishnan for their creative suggestions and contributions to help my thesis submission.

Valuable directions from the honorable members of the research committee, Dr. V.B. Manilal, Scientist, NIIST, Thiruvananthapuram and Dr. S. Edison, Director, CTCRI, Thiruvananthapuram and efficient administrative support from CESS, especially from Registrar, Mr. P. Sudeep and Mr. A. Gopinathan of administrative wing are gratefully acknowledged.

I must also give a big thanks to my fellow labmates especially Mr. J. Jean Jose, Mr. V. Prasanthan, Mr. P. Udayakumar, Mr. V.J. Ajimon, Mr. R. Shibu, Mr. A.K. Faisal, Mr. M. Ratheeshkumar, Mr. Vishnu. S. Raj, Mr. R. Suraj Krishna, Mr. M.I. Sreejith and Dr. R.S. Baiju in the Chemical Science Division for always keeping me positive even during the long days and late nights in the lab and also for their untiring effort and back up which was my real motivation.

Finally, I would like to thank my family; my parents for teaching me curiosity and commitment, my wife, Linda, who has always been supportive, patient and forgiving, and my daughters Livana and Leona, who always know how to make me smile.
