A DEBT OF GRATITUDE

It was a great privilege for me to have worked under Sri C.P.K. Tharagan, Professor (Retd.), Department of English, University of Kerala, for the last seven years, whose gracious personality and great scholarship have left an abiding impression on my mind. I am deeply indebted to him for helping me to enter into the spirit of the subject of this thesis THE IMPACT OF ENGLISH ON MALAYALAM POETRY, specially chosen to suit the needs of the time and for the valuable advice and suggestions given to me from time to time.

I have also a high obligation to Messrs. Prof. Joseph Mundasseril, Prof. N. Krishna Pillai and Mahakavi G. Sankara Kurup, without whose critical guidance this thesis would not have received its present shape.

My sincere thanks are also due to Sri K. Prabhakaran, Sri. P.Ramanathan and Smt. Sreedevi Changampuzha who kindly allowed me to explore the personal libraries of Kumaran Asan, Ulloor and Changampuzha respectively.

University College, Trivandrum - 1. N. Vasiwanathan, Professor of English,