Acknowledgements

I am falling short of words to express my gratitude towards my supervisors Professor G.S. Singhal and Professor R.K. Kale. It is their supervision and constant encouragement that have seen me through this endeavor, which at times looked doomed. I shall not forget the pains Professor Kale took in defending in many a difficult conditions and the freedom he has given me in continuing with this project. I am always indebted to him.

I thank the present and former Deans of the school for providing excellent research facilities in the school and for being approachable.

I gladly acknowledge the CIF staff Shri Alexander, Dr. Sharma, Khan sahib, Mishra, Rajender, Aslam and Balwant for their technical assistance and for being so helpful. My thanks are also due to office staff; Satyawan and many others for their ever-helpful attitude. I am humbled by the services of Late Rashidji, Roshanlal, Bishenchandji, Devraj, Bhagatram and Jagpal who kept the labs clean and workable.

I am indebted to Sainiji for his understanding and timely help in many ways. My thanks are due to Dr. S. Chowdery and others at Wheat division, IARI, for supplying the wheat seeds whenever needed.

I thankfully acknowledge the UGC fellowship that had given me a hope to fulfill this dream.

I shall remember Shri Raju Iyer for his special help and concern about me.

I thank Professor Lazslo Mustardy, Biological Research Center, Hungarian Academy of Sciences, Hungary for his marvelous electron microscopy work.

I shall remember my teacher Professor Prasanna Mohanty for his modesty, openness, criticism, benevolence and friendship. It was his counseling and grooming that have given a dabbler like me the confidence to pull through some of the most trying conditions.

I thank Prof. AR Rao for his advices and kindness.

I am grateful to Professor V.S. Ramadas, who shaped my destiny by inspiring me and encouraging me.

I would cherish the pleasant and enjoyable company of my lab-mates Ranjit, Sanjay Mishra, Neelam, Sanjay, Abhay, Arvind, Ritu, Kavita, Minnati, Ashu madam, Anjali, Gagan, Rajesh and Chimeeg.

I have enjoyed the hospitality and friendship of Viswanatham uncle, aunty; Dr. and Mrs Subbarao garu; Dr. KUM Rao garu and family. They helped me in every way they could and made my JNU years memorable.

Umadevi madam at AU and Satyanarayana mastaru at Rajahmundry always stood by me with their concern and love.

My ever understanding and loving parents, brothers and their families, grand parents, uncles and aunts gave me that moral support and courage. I fondly recall my late uncle Shri Vempo garu, who had shown me the window towards a rational and meaningful life.

I am touched by Madhavi's love, understanding and patience. She endured my eccentricities and histrionics all these days.

I am lucky to have friends Gurumurthy, Ranjan, Sanjiv, Vaishali, Bhaskar, Purnima, Ramana, Rajagopal, Dinesh, Sunil, Suresh, Raghuram, Madhavi, Prasanna, Vani, Dayanand, Prakash KV, Ajay, Benarji, Burra, DVRaogaru, Pinnamaneni, Gireesh, Taadi, Reddy, Vincent, Mastanrao, Haribabu, Melvi and several others who stood by me through ups and downs and shared my joys and pains all these years. Its their support and care that had made at the end what I am. This small endeavor of mine is dedicated to all those brave hearts......

PRASANTH