ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

I have been aided and guided by a great number of people in course of preparation of this thesis. Their contributions in various ways making the thesis deserved special mention. It is a pleasure to convey my gratitude to all of them in my humble acknowledgments.

First and foremost I do express my heartiest regard and cordial indebtedness to Dr. Biplab Chakrabarti, Professor, Department of Library and Information Science, University of Calcutta for his valuable advice and guidance during this study and preparation of the thesis. I would like to express my whole hearted thanks and deep gratitude to Late Subir Kumar Sen, Dr. Ratna Bandyopadhyay, Dr. Pijushkanti Panigrahi, Dr. Swapna Banerjee, Dr. Dibyendu Paul, Dr. Arabinda Maity and Mr. Parikshit Mondal of the Department of Library and Information Science, University of Calcutta for their valuable suggestions to complete this thesis and for providing necessary facilities whenever I required. I would like to pay my special thanks to Dr. Soumitra Sarkar, Librarian, University of Calcutta for encouragement and contribution to make this thesis much better than I could possibly make without his help.

With a deep sense of reverence, I would like to appreciate and deep gratitude to clinical librarians like Melinda Davies (Royal Sussex County Hospital Library), Sarah Sutton (Clinical Sciences Library, LRI), Louise Hull (Education Centre Library, GH) and Pip Divall (Education Centre Library, LGH) for their support to understand clinical librarianship by sharing their work experience with me.
I would like to acknowledge Dr. Gopa Ghosh, Library and Information Assistant, National Library of India for providing me a great support in successful completion of this research work.

I have been blessed with a friendly and cheerful group of fellow research scholars — Dr. Subal Kumar Barui, Dr. Sk Abul Salam, Dr. Pubalika Bhattacharya Moitra, Dr. Tridib Chattopadhyay, Asish Biswas, Nivedita Bhattacharyya, Mom Chattopadhyay, Rahul Majumder, Pritam Gurey, D. D. Lal, Asis Karan, Dipa Roy and Abhijit Chatterjee. I have been benefited by their active participation in course of my research work. I am grateful to all of them.

I was extraordinarily fortunate in having experience of working as librarian with the healthcare professionals at the Calcutta Medical Research Institute and also in having chance of using their collection as the basis of my research work. In this regard I would like to thank Dr. Mala Chattopadhyay, Ex Medical Superintendent, CMRI and Dr. Sudeshna Lahiri Guha, Deputy Medical Superintendent, CMRI for their support and help to start my research work.

I am indebted to Deborah Novotny, Sarah Jane Hamlyn, Kumiko Matsuoka, Jane Pimlott, Catherine Atkinson and Laura Carpenter of the British Library, UK for providing me an opportunity to meet many clinical librarians and support to carry out my research while I was in London.

I would like to thank my respected colleagues of the Barasat College – Dr. Prateeti Bhattacharya, Dr. Shymasree Basu and Jayanta Mondal for assisting me in many different ways. I have benefited by advice and necessary support from them.

The members of my family deserve special mention for their inseparable support and prayers. I could optimally carry out my research work. I am very much grateful to them.
Finally, I would like to thank everybody who was important to the successful realisation of thesis, as well as I am expressing my apology that I could not mention personally one by one.
