

ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

The thesis has been carried out under the invaluable guidance of Prof. Mihir K. Rakshit, erstwhile Professor at Presidency College and at present with Indian Statistical Institute, Calcutta. I am extremely grateful to him for his constant interest and encouragement.

I also want to acknowledge with gratitude the unstinted help and guidance extended by Prof. Ramprasad Sengupta of CESP, Jawaharlal Nehru University. Dr. A.K. Sinha and Dr. S. Sikdar of Centre for Economic Studies, Presidency College, Calcutta, also provided constant encouragement.

Mr. Gautam Ghosh, erstwhile programmer at Regional Computer Centre, Jadavpur University, has carried out the programming work for the thesis. I express my gratitude to him for his unflinching interest in the work. Dr. Shymalendu Pal, World Bank, Washington, D.C. and Mr. Himadri Endow of Cegelec India have also helped with the final version of the Programme.

The data for the research were obtained with the assistance of people at different departments of the Steel Authority of India Ltd. I am grateful to all concerned for extending their help. In this context, I would like to especially mention the names of Mr. Rajbans Talwar and Mr. Tanmoy Ray for their interest and encouragement.

I would also like to thank Mr. Soumyendranath Bhattacharya for his help with the computer facilities while editing the thesis, and also Mr. A. S. Negi for his assistance in bringing out the final print.

Last but not the least, I would like to express my gratitude to all my family-members, especially my late father Shri Gopal Bhaumik, without whose inspiration the thesis would not have taken shape.
