Details of the Content

INTRODUCTION

- Suniti Kumar Chatterji as an Indian Linguist 2
- Earlier Research Works 5
- Purpose of the present Research Work 7
- Plan of the Research Work 10
- Preparation of the work 10
- Sources 11

CHAPTER I: SUNITI KUMAR CHATTERJI – HISTORICAL BACKGROUND 13-65

- What is Linguistic Science 13
- Greek Tradition of Linguistic Study 14
- Roman Tradition of Grammatical Speculations 15
- Indian Linguistic Work in Earlier Times 16
  Yaska 17
  Pre Paninian Grammarians 17
  Panini 18
  Patanjali 18
- Dr. Chatterji’s Study of the Linguistic Tradition 21
- Development of Linguistic Science in the Nineteenth Century 22
- Discovery of Sanskrit and its impact 23
- Common Source and Postulation of Indo-European 24
- The Nineteenth Century Linguists 26
  Friedrich Von Schlegel 26
  Rasmus Rask 27
  Jacob Grimm 28
  Franz Bopp 29
  Wilhelm Von Humboldt 30
- The Neogrammarians and Study of Sound Changes 30
- Interests of the Western Scholars and Missionaries since Seventeenth Century 32
- Henry Thomas Colebrooke 33

Pages

1-12

13-65
• Adolf Schlegel 34
• Eugene Burnouf 35
• Friederich Max Müller 35
• Some Valuable works on Bengali and other Indian Languages 36
  John Beames 36
  Dr. Augustus Rudolf Hoernle: 38
  Bishop Robert Caldwell 38
  Sir Ramkrishna Gopal Bhandarkar 39
• Linguistic Tradition and Dr. Suniti Kumar Chatterji 40
• Sir George Abraham Grierson 42
• Sir Daniel Jones 44
• Phonetics Studies – Sir Daniel Jones, Henry Sweet 44
  Paul Passy and others
• Prof. Antoine Meillet 47
• Prof. Sylvain Levi 47
• Prof. Paul Pelliot 48
• Prof. Jules Bloch 49
• The Study of Bengali Language and Grammatical Tradition in Bengal 50
  Fr Manoel de Assumpcam 52
  Nathaniel Brassey Halhed 53
  William Carey 53
  Raja Rammohan Roy 53
  Pandit Iswar Chandra Vidyasagar 56
  Shyamacharan Sarkar 58
  Chintamoni Gangopadhyay 58
  Nakuleshwar Vidyabhushan 59
  Hrishikesh Shastri 59
  Rabindranath Tagore 60
• The New Features of Dr. Chatterji’s Works 64

CHAPTER II: SUNITI KUMAR CHATTERJI – EARLY LIFE AND TRAINING 66-102

• Chatterji’s family and childhood 66
• Early education and teachers 67
• Prof. Chatterji’s interests as a child 73
• Influence of Swami Vivekananda and Kabiguru Rabindranath
on Chatterji's early life 77
• Chatterji’s College days 81
• Prof. Chatterji’s Marriage & Family 83
• The Young Scholar 83
• Chatterji’s life in London 86
• With Tagore, Roerich and Others 88
• Cultural life in London & Paris 90
• Travelling 93
  London & Paris 93
  Greece 94
  Dvipamay Bhārat O S’yam Des’ 95
• Suniti Kumar Chatterji as a member of Monday Club 99
• Dr. Chatterji’s appointment as University Professor 101

CHAPTER III : SUNITI KUMAR CHATTERJI – RANGE OF INTEREST 103-159
• Prof. Chatterji’s love for artistic creations 105
• Study of Art 106
• Interest in Music 112
• Suniti Kumar Chatterji’s interest in Stage Craft 116
• Parichhader Itiḥās – Chatterji’s Interest in Dress and Accessories 120
• Languages and Culture 122
• Indian Culture : Diversity and Unity 128
• Dravidian Culture 136
• Bengal and Bengalee Culture 137
• India and China 143
• Iranianism 146
• Balts and Aryans 149
• India and Ethiopia 153
• Africanism 156
• Interest in Literature 157

CHAPTER IV : SUNITI KUMAR CHATTERJI – THE LINGUIST 160-375
• Classification of Suniti Kumar’s Works 162
• The Origin and Development of the Bengali Language 179
• ODBL : Author’s Aim and Approach 183
- Inner and Outer Aryans: The theory of two-fold immigration of the Aryans in India 184
- Indo-Aryans Dialects: Dr. Chatterji’s View 185
- Special Emphasis on the Eastern Indo-Aryan Dialects 191
- The Stages of Development of Indo-Aryan and the Source of Bengali 193
- ODBL: Phonological Observations 197
  History of Indo-Aryan Sound 197
  Percentage of Frequency of New Bengali Sounds 200
  Accent in Bengali 200
  Origin of the Bengali Syllabic Metre 202
  Effects of Stress and the development of Bengali language 203
  Vowels in Contact 204
  History of Bengali Consonants 205
  Phonological Changes of the Consonants in Contact 206
  Some other important Phonological Changes related to Bengali language 208
  Foreign sounds in the loan words of Bengali 215
- ODBL: Morphological Observations 220
  Formative Elements: Prefixes & Suffixes 220
  Nominal Stem or Declension of Nouns 220
  Stems; Gender; Number; Case and Case Inflections 227
  Enclitic Definitives or Numerative 227
  Verbal System 243
  Dr. Chatterji’s Study of Aspect 243
  Conjugation of Verbs in Indo-European, in Old Indo-Aryan and in New Indo-Aryan 244
  Classification of Bengali Roots 248
  Roots and Verbal nouns in Bengali 257
  Compound Verbs 257
  Passive Voice in Bengali 264
  Tense 268
  Pronouns 273
  Number System in Bengali 275
  Etymology and Lexicon 276
- The Newness of Approach in ODBL 278
- New approach: Bhāṣā-Prakāś Bāṅgālā Vyākaraṇ 281
- Bāṅglā Bhāṣā Prasaṅge 293
- A Bengali Phonetic Reader 297
- Indian Phonetics and Phonology: Chatterji’s Other Works 311
• Dr. Chatterji’s Views on the development of Hindi 316
• Indo-Aryan and Hindi 317
• The Status of Hindi 319
• Dr. Chatterji’s Study of Indo-European 321
• Concepts of Linguistic Area and Dr. Chatterji’s Contribution 335
• Languages and Literature of Modern India (1963) and Other Works 351
• Language Families and Comparative Studies of World Languages 355
• Significance of Suniti Kumar Chatterji’s approach to Indian Languages and Current Trends 357
• Types of Language Planning and Dr. Chatterji’s Study of the Indian Languages 359
• Suniti Kumar Chatterji’s Suggestions for the Solution of Language Problems 368

CONCLUSION 375-377

PLATES

SELECT BIBLIOGRAPHY 378-392