ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

This thesis is the end of my long journey. I have not traveled in a vacuum in this journey. There are some people who made this journey easier with words of encouragement and more intellectually satisfying by offering different places to look to expand my theories and ideas. I would like to thank all those people who have helped and inspired me during my doctoral study.

I would like to express my deep and sincere gratitude to my research supervisor, Dr. Minati Sen, Reader & Head of the Department of Home Science, Calcutta University. Her wide knowledge and her logical way of thinking have been of great value for me. Her understanding, encouraging and personal guidance have provided a good basis for the present thesis.

I especially want to thank my associate research supervisor, Dr. Arunasis Goswami, Director of Open and Distance Learning, University of Kalyani, Nadia, West Bengal. His perpetual energy and enthusiasm in research had motivated all his advisees, including me. In addition, he was always accessible and willing to help his students with their research. As a result, research life became smooth and rewarding for me.

It is difficult to overstate my gratitude to my statistical mentor, Dr. Debasish Majumder, Head of the Department of Agricultural Statistics, Bidhan Chandra Krishi Viswyavidyalaya. With his enthusiasm, his inspiration, and his great efforts to explain things clearly and simply, helped me to analyse my thesis statistically. Throughout my thesis-writing period, he provided encouragement, sound advice, good teaching, good company, and lots of good ideas.

I express my gratitude to the Ministry of Tribal Affair (MER Division) Govt. of India and Backward Class Welfare Department, Govt. of West Bengal for their financial assistance for the award of Doctoral Fellowship.

I wish to express my warm and sincere thanks to the Dept.of Veterinary & Animal Husbandry Extension Education, F/o Veterinary & Animal Science of West Bengal University of Animal & Fishery Sc, Kolkata to give me the opportunity to work in the department and gave me untiring help during my difficult moments.

I wish to thank all teaching and nonteaching staffs of the Department of the Home-Science (Viharilal College) of the University of Calcutta.

I owe my most sincere gratitude to Professor A. K. Mazumder, Former Head, Dept OF Agricultural Extension Education, Bidhan Chandra Krishi
Viswyavidyalaya and Dr. Indu Ghorai, Former Head, Dept OF Home-Science (Viharilal College) of the University of Calcutta, who gave me the valuable suggestion regarding to work and gave me a constant mental support to overcome the difficult moments.

I warmly thank to Dr. Ranjan Gupta, Professor in Anthropology and Human Genetics Unit, Indian Statistical Institute, Kolkata, for kind support and guidance have been of great value in this study.

During this work I have collaborated with many colleagues from National Institute of Nutrition, Hyderabad for whom I have great regard, and I wish to extend my warmest thanks to all those who have helped me with my work in the field during data collection.

I wish to thank the all Panchyaet members of Toto Para of the Jalpaiguri District, Bandawan, Purulia-I, Baghmundi, Kashipur, Neturia, Para, Barabazar and Manbazar-II blocks of Purulia district for their essential assistance and active cooperation in field.

I would also like to acknowledge and thank the entire tribal community. Their valuable feedback and advice has been instrumental in shaping the full form of this thesis.

My deepest gratitude goes to my husband Dr. Apurba Chakraborty for his unflagging love and support enabled me to complete this work.

I wish to thank my entire extended all relatives for providing a loving environment for me.

I am indebted to my father in-law, mother in-law, for their care and love. I have no suitable word that can fully describe their everlasting love to me.

My special gratitude is due to my brother Suman Dhargupta for helping me get through the difficult times, and for all the emotional support, comraderie, entertainment, and caring they provided.

Lastly, and most importantly, I wish to thank my parents, Dr. K. K. Dhargupta and Mrs Anjana Dhargupta for their loving support. They bore me, raised me, supported mentally and financially, taught me, and loved me. To them I dedicate this thesis.

Last but not least, thanks be to God for my life through all tests in the past three years. You have made my life more bountiful. May your name be exalted, honored, and glorified.
