List of Figures

- FIGURE: 1.1 - The contemporary need for business ethics - (Page 3)
- FIGURE: 1.2: Intelligence & Intentionality of human resources – (Page 5)
- FIGURE: 1.3: Effect of being ethical on employees - (Page 6)
- FIGURE: 1.4 – Ethics, HRM practices, employee morale - (Page 7)
- FIGURE: 2/FLOW/Sample - Ethical Implication Of giving wages and salaries (Page 69)
- FIGURE: 3.1 - The contemporary need for business ethics - (Page 83)
- FIGURE: 3.2 - Ethics and Human Resource Management - (Page 87)
- FIGURE: 4.1 – Effect of being ethical on employees - (Page 90)
- FIGURE: 4.3 - Organisational sustainability, HRM and ethics - (Page 93)
- FIGURE: 4.4 - Partiality / discrimination in training – (Page 94)
- FIGURE: 4.5 - Industry and region specific standards of wages & salaries – it’s ethical implications and effects - (Page 95)
- FIGURE: 4.6 - Effect of discrimination or doing partiality in promoting, giving benefits, etc. – (Page 96)
- FIGURE: 4.7 - Effect of providing performance appraisal feedback - (Page 97)
- FIGURE: 4.8 - Effect of not providing equal opportunities in training and development - (Page 98)
- FIGURE: 4.9 - Not communicating or suppressing information on HR policies / benefits, either sometimes or many times, is less ethical. – (Page 99)
- FIGURE: 4.10 - Discriminating in enforcing discipline, either few times or many times, implies less ethical practice on the part of the organisation. – (Page 99)
- FIGURE: 4.11 - Listening and handling employees’ grievances - (Page 100)
- FIGURE: 2/FLOW – Ethical implication of following HR plans - (Page 104)
• FIGURE : 3/FLOW - Ethical implication of having different time frames of HR planning - (Page 119)

• FIGURE : 4/FLOW - Ethical implication - promoting employees - (Page 134)

• FIGURE : 5/FLOW - Ethical implication of selecting people through referrals and recommendations – (Page 149)

• FIGURE: 6/FLOW – Ethical implication of depending on a particular recruitment agency. – (Page 164)

• FIGURE : 7/FLOW - Ethical implication – keeping temporary employees – (Page 179)

• FIGURE : 8/FLOW – Ethical implication of appointing casual employees / non-permanent employees (at an ad-hoc basis) for permanent vacancies - (Page 194)

• FIGURE 9/FLOW – Ethical implication of trainees or freshers for full time responsible jobs. – (Page 210)

• FIGURE : 10/FLOW – Ethical implication of not confirming employees timely. – (Page 224)

• FIGURE : 11/FLOW – Ethical implication - retrenching manpower with compensation - (Page 238)

• FIGURE : 12/FLOW – Ethical implication - discriminating between employees while giving promotions or special facilities or giving more increments - (Page 252)

xxxii
• FIGURE : 13/FLOW - Ethical Implication Of Discriminating In Providing Opportunities For Training & Development. –(Page 266)

• FIGURE : 14/FLOW - Ethical Implication of providing post performance appraisal feedback - (Page 281)

• FIGURE : 15/FLOW - Ethical Implication Of giving wages and salaries - (Page 296)

• FIGURE : 16/FLOW - Ethical implication of making employees work for long hours, without any extra benefits or less benefits - (Page 314)

• FIGURE : 17/FLOW - Ethical implications of providing Provident Fund facilities to employees - (Page 329)

• FIGURE : 18/FLOW - Flow Diagram Showing Ethical Implication Of Benefits Committed To Employees But Not given - (Page 343)

• FIGURE : 19/FLOW - Flow Diagram Showing Ethical Implication Of not communicating facts regarding HR policies/ benefits to employees. – (Page 360)

• FIGURE : 20/FLOW - Ethical implication of democratic leadership - (Page 374)

• FIGURE : 21/FLOW - Ethical implication of showing favouritism or discriminating while enforcing discipline. – (Page 389)

• FIGURE : 22/FLOW - Ethical Implication – Making False Promises To Employees - (Page 403)

xxxiii
- FIGURE : 23/FLOW - Ethical implications – failing to act after listening to the demands or grievances of employees - (Page 417)

- FIGURE : 24/FLOW - Ethical implication of putting work pressure on employees - (Page 433)