ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

While doing the B.Sc and M.Sc, I was never confronted with the problem of writing a Thesis. After starting work for the Ph.D, I found myself literally at sea, deluged in information, books and the strains of travel.

Dr. Samir Kumar Mukherjee deserves my very special thanks as he showed me how to navigate in the choppy waters of writing a Doctoral Thesis. He was at my side right from the beginning till the end inspite of his busy schedule and various problems. Infact he was my mentor throughout.

Dr Bimal Bandopadhyay (Superintending Archaeologist of the Archaeological Survey of India, Calcutta Circle) my co-guide was a big help in giving me total access to the Archaeological Survey Library from where a lot of material for this Thesis has come.

Mr. Debapriya Dasgupta, the librarian of the Archaeological Survey Library guided me in the selection of books and assisted me in the photocopying of appropriate material. I would also like to thank all the staff of the Archaeological Survey of India, Calcutta Circle for providing me with all help.

I cannot but mention the wonderful role of the staff of the Photography Section of the Archaeological Survey of India who unflinchingly spared their time in collating the photography material.

Thanks are due to Dr. Chhanda Das (Head of the Department of Museology, Kolkata University) who all along gave me guidance and was a big support when I felt down and under.

I have to specially mention the name of Dr. C. Panda (Director Victoria Memorial, Kolkata). It is because of him that I embarked on this venture with the idea of reaching the goal that he has set for me. When I reach this goal it would earn me renown in the field of Museology.

I cannot forget the role of Mr Amalendu Bhattarcharya (ex-librarian Victoria Memorial, Kolkata) who was instrumental in suggesting and locating the books, which would be of use in this Thesis.

My grateful thanks go to Mr. Gopinath Ghosh (Deputy Keeper, Archaeology, Indian Museum, Kolkata) for ferreting out the necessary documents from the large pile at the Museum. In this work very able assistance was given by the Library staff of the Indian Museum.
Dr. C. Margabandhu's help is very graciously acknowledged in helping me with the finishing touches of the Thesis.

The roles played by Mrs. Sunetra Dutta, Sanjib Mukherjee and Mrs C. Das in putting together the Thesis requires special mention. They toiled on the computer by my side and relieved the tedium of printing the material and putting it together in book form. Mrs Rupa Mukherjee helped me by supplying some rare books and manuscripts which was very useful in writing this Thesis.

I must mention the role of my cousin Saugata Sen who took the trouble of correcting the drafts in many a chapter.

Mr. Subhasis Ganguli and Mrs. Puja Roy Ganguli are to be thanked as they helped me considerably in fixing up the artistry work.

I also thank my friend Dhriti Ray who has helped me in putting my Thesis to order.

Sri Sourabh Sen and Tathagata Sen should be thanked for giving me many valuable pictures of places like Aihole, Badami, Hampi and Halebid.

Mrs Dipika Bhattacharya who recently visited Pakistan helped me with the details of the Site Museums at Taxila, Harappa and Mohenjo-Daro. She had also been my companion when I visited the ruins of Mangalkot and Chandraketugarh.

Lastly I have to express my deep gratitude to my parents Mr. P.C. Sen and Mrs Krishna Sen without whose help this Thesis would not have seen the light of day.
