INTRODUCTION :	1
EXPERIMENTALS :
Materials	23
Methods	25
RESULTS :
Chapter I. STUDIES ON EXTRACTION, FRACTIONA- TION AND SOME BIOCHEMICAL PROPER- TIES OF PROTEOLYTIC ENZYMES OBTAINED FROM BLADDERS OF UTRICULARIA AUREA :
Extraction and Fractionation ..	37
Studies on Activities and other Characteristics of Enzyme Fractions ..	39
A. Determination of proteolytic activities of enzyme fractions	41
B. Effects of variation of incu- bation conditions on proteo- lytic activities of different fractions :
(i) Effects of variation of pH of the incubation medium on proteolytic activities of Fractions I and II ..	42
(ii) Effects of variation of temperature of incubation on proteolytic activities of Fractions I and II ..	43
(iii) Effects of variation of time of incubation on proteolytic activities of Fractions I and II ..	44

C. Studies on the thermal sensitivity of the enzyme fractions ..	44
D. Effects of ions and agents on enzyme activity :
(i) Effects of activators ..	45
(ii) Effects of inhibitors ..	47
E. Enzyme activity towards different synthetic substrates ..	47
F. Enzyme activity towards different synthetic co-substrate factors ..	51
Summary ..	53
 Chapter II. FURTHER STUDIES ON THE PURIFICATION OF FRACTIONS I AND II BY ECTEOLA-CELLULOSE COLUMN CHROMATOGRAPHY, AND DETERMINATION OF PROTEOLYTIC ACTIVITY OF EFFLUENT :
A. Purification of Fractions I and II by ECTEOLA-cellulose column chromatography ..	56
B. Enzyme activities of ECTEOLA-cellulose column chromatogram's peak elutes ..	60
Summary ..	61
 Chapter III. HISTOCHEMICAL STUDIES ON THE LOCALIZATION OF PROTEOLYTIC ACTIVITIES IN UTRICULARIA AUREA BLADDERS
Summary ..	62
