I express my deepest sense of gratitude and obligation to Dr. N. C. Datta, Reader in Zoology, University of Calcutta, for able guidance, constructive criticism, and valuable suggestions during various phases of gestation of this thesis.

I am especially thankful to late Professor D. N. Ganguly, Department of Zoology, Calcutta University for the genuine interest that he had kindly shown during the present investigation. With deep respect I recall his kind gesture and consistent inspiration. But unfortunately he did not survive to see the final shape of this dissertation.

I also express my indebtedness to Prof. D. N. Raychaudhuri, Head of the Dept. of Zoology and Prof. A. Ghosh of Calcutta University for giving me all laboratory facilities.

I am glad to express my sincere gratitude to Dr. H. Gupta, Principal, Rishi Bankim Chandra College, Naihati for granting study leave to do this work. I am also thankful to the University Grants Commission, Govt. of India for providing the financial assistance by awarding me teacher fellowship under the U.G.C. scheme of Faculty Improvement Programme.

The investigator is also thankful to Dr. P. K. Talwar, Head, Fish Division, Zoological Survey of India, Calcutta for his kind assistance in identifying the studied specimens from time to time.
It is a pleasure to express my thanks to those friends and colleagues who have so kindly helped me in various ways. In particular I thank Mr. S. Kar, M.Sc. of Zoological Survey of India, Calcutta for giving me his valuable time for going through the manuscript.

A very special word of thanks goes to Dr. K. Misra and Miss S. Deb for their kindful assistance and also to Mr. A. Pramanik, Head of the department of Zoology, Rishi Bankim Chandra College, Naihati for his encouragement in this study.

I would like to thank many more individuals for their kind help, the omission of their names does not underestimate their help and my gratitude to each of them.

Last but not the least, Mr. B. Samanta deserves special thanks for his assistance in preparation of some illustrations.
