ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

It is with deep sense of respect that I take this opportunity to express my sincere thanks for the guidance and constant supervision throughout the present work, given by my learned teacher Dr. A.K. Bose, M.B., D.A. (London), F.P.A.R.C.S. (ENG), F.A.M.S. (IND), Professor and Head of the Department of Anaesthesiology, Institute of Post-graduate Medical Education and Research, Calcutta and Head of the Department of Anaesthesiology, Calcutta University. But for his thorough supervision and constant encouragement, this work would never have come to the present stage. He has spared his precious time for guiding me and pulling me out of all the difficult situations. I shall ever remain indebted to him for his help.

I am highly grateful to Dr. K.L. Mukherjee, M.B.B.S., D. Phil (Cal), Ph.D (WISCO), Professor and Head of the Department of Biochemistry, Institute of Post-graduate Medical Education and Research, Calcutta, for his kind help and guidance in this study.

I am also highly obliged and very much thankful to Col D.N. Sardana, Commanding Officer, Command Pathological Laboratory (EC) for providing me the necessary laboratory facilities required for this work.

I have a debt of gratitude to my Commanding Officers, Brig R N Taneja and Colonel S K Mukherjee for thier kind permission to persue my post-graduate study.
I offer my sincere thanks to Lt Col A.K. Bhattacharya, Officer Commanding, Eastern Command Transfusion Centre for his kind help.

My grateful thanks are due to Shri M.V. Rao and Shri N. Kanan for their help to prepare all charts and plates in this work.

I owe to Miss Swati Mitra and Miss Mallika Mitra, Shri G.P. Singh and Shri R.C. Oli for their help in statistical works in the present work.

It is a great pleasure to acknowledge the help of Major S.B.L. Srivastava and Mrs M Srivastava who in spite of their busy schedule have helped me to correct the proofs this work.

I wish to thank Shri N.C. Chakravarty, Shri C.R. Biswas and Shri B.K. Biswas for their secretarial help in preparation of the thesis.

I am thankful to Shri S.Ghosh for his help and encouragement from time to time to complete the work.

I am very much thankful to all patients who have voluntarily came forward and co-operated without which it was virtually impossible to complete the work.

Last but not the least I express my gratitude to all who directly and indirectly helped me to complete this work.
