The costing and pricing of sugar have posed a stupendous problem for the Indian Sugar Industry. This has been reflected in various articles in the newspapers and journals and also in the statements made in the Parliament from time to time. This work attempts a probe into the causative factors of the problems connected with the costing and pricing of sugar. The causes of the problems, associated with the costing and pricing aspects of the sugar manufacturing industry, have been investigated and remedial measures suggested.