ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

I express my sincere thanks and gratitude to my guide Dr. Prakash M Halami, Principal Scientist, Food Microbiology Department, Central Food Technological Research Institute (CFTRI), Mysore, Karnataka, for giving me an opportunity to carry out my PhD work at his lab and providing an unwavering guidance. The support, co-operation, novel suggestions and constructive criticism by my guide, have contributed to the completion of this thesis.

I am grateful to Dr. Umesh Kumar S, Head, Food Microbiology Department, CFTRI, Mysore, for providing all the necessary facilities, and encouragement extended from time to time.

I also thank Dr. G. Venkateswara Rao, Acting Director, CFTRI, Mysore for permitting me to peruse my research work, and also Dr. M.C. Varadaraj, Head, HRD Department for co-ordinating the work at CFTRI, Mysore.

I would like to thank the University of Mysore for the award of Degree.

I would like to thank the Council of Scientific and Industrial Research (CSIR) for awarding the senior research fellowship (SRF) and the financial support during my research work. I extend my thanks to the technical and non-technical staff of CFTRI for their support and help during my PhD tenure. The library facilities, computer centre and central instrumentation and scientific facilities (CISF) at CFTRI, provided an immense encouragement during my research. I remain thankful to Mr. Anbalagan for providing the SEM images, which have helped a lot in writing of this thesis.

I would like to express my sincere thanks to the other scientist of Food Microbiology department, CFTRI, Dr. S.V.N. Vijayendra, Dr. Anu Appaiah, Dr. G. Vijayalakshmi, Dr. Renu Agrawal, Dr. Shamala T. R, Dr. G. Venkateswaran, Dr. Mahjibin Khan and Mrs. Vanajakshi V without whom the completion of this thesis would not have been possible.

I extend my gratitude to Dr. Maya Prakash and Mrs. Asha Mysore Ramaswamy, Sensory Science Department, CFTRI, Mysore, for analysing and helping me in characterizing the sensory properties of the fermented samples.
I would like to express my sincere thanks to all of my fellow research scholars and friends, Dr. Badrinath, Dr. Ragavendra, Mr. Surya Chandra Rao, Ms. Nithya V, Ms. Padmaja RJ, Mr. Yogesh D, Dr. Sangeetha Ravi Kumar, Ms. Catherine, Ms. Jaime Jorge, Ms. Vrinda R, Mrs. Rita S and Mrs. Smitha BN for their constant support and assistance rendered. I extend my special thanks to Dr. Shobha Rani P for enormous support, help and suggestions during my PhD work. I am also grateful to other lab members of the FM department who have extended their help from time to time.

Lastly, I would like to thank my Parents (S. Venkateswara Rao and Nageswari), my husband (Mr. Vemula Harish), my elder sisters (Krishna Veni and Naga Jyothi), my brother in-law (Dr. N. Venkata Ramana) and my parent in-laws for their immense support, appreciation, and encouragement during my PhD work. I am deeply indebted to my family members for their constant inspiration in all my endeavours.
