ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

I feel called upon to express my deep sense of appreciation and profound gratitude to my revered teacher and Supervisor Dr. P. Das, Ph.D., Senior Research Officer, National Institute of Cholera and Enteric Diseases, Calcutta for his untiring guidance, constant encouragement and help without which I could never have completed this undertaking.

I am deeply indebted to Dr. S.C. Pal, M.D., Dip. Bact. (Manchester), Director, National Institute of Cholera and Enteric Diseases, Calcutta, without whose blessings, encouragement and support, this work would not have been completed. He has provided me with opportunities which few post-graduate students are fortunate enough to receive. I pay my heartfelt thanks and regards.

I express my sincere gratitude to Dr. G.B. Nair, Ph.D., Senior Research Officer, National Institute of Cholera and Enteric Diseases, Calcutta for his constructive suggestions and encouragement for which I shall remain ever grateful to him.

I am also grateful to Dr. S.K. Bhattacharya, M.D., Dr. M.K. Bhattacharya, M.B.B.S. of Division of Clinical Medicine of this Institute for making available to me unlimited clinical materials and related data from different hospitals in Calcutta.

I express my heartfelt thanks to Drs. B.C. Deb, S.P. De, D. Sen, M.R. Saha, S.K. Niyogi, K. Banerjee, and (Mrs.) A. Dutta of this Institute and Dr. S. Pal, Post-doctoral Fellow (Johns Hopkins University, USA), Drs. S. Ghose and (Mrs.) R. Ghose (nee Pal), Post-doctoral Fellows (University of Alabama at Birmingham) for their kind help and valuable suggestions, friendly association and company in carrying out this work.

I wish to acknowledge Dr. S. Sarkar, M.D., of this Institute for lending his valuable time in computing the data.

Contd.
It is a pleasure to acknowledge Prof. A. Chaudhuri, Head, Department of Marine Science, University of Calcutta, Prof. A. Bhattacharya, Department of Zoology, University of Calcutta, Prof. A.C. Ghose, Department of Microbiology, Bose Institute, Calcutta, Dr. S. Bhaduri, Ph.D. and Dr. P.S. Roy, Ph.D., for their suggestion, cooperation and constant encouragement during the period of this study.

My sincere thanks to Mr. Subodh Karmakar and S.K. Das of this Institute for their skillful typing.

This is my pleasant moment to show my profound respect to my parents who give me constant encouragement and moral support in every work of life.

Last but not least, financial support received from Indian Council of Medical Research, New Delhi, during the entire course of the study is highly acknowledged.

PARTHA PRATIM CHAUDHURI
