Contents

1. Preface 1–9

2. Chapter 1 10–46
   Identity: A Significant Way of Signifying

3. Chapter 2 47–91
   Identity: The Issue at the Onset of the Third Millennium

4. Chapter 3 92–129
   Rushdie, Ghosh and Mukherjee:
   Different Realities, Different Perspectives

5. Chapter 4 130–175
   Visualising Beyond the 'Imaginary Homeland':
   Rushdie's Search for a Pluralistic View

6. Chapter 5 176–253
   Imagining Life outside 'Glass Palaces':
   Ghosh's Tryst with History across Borders

7. Chapter 6 254–285
   The Route to 'Rerooting': Mukherjee's Defiance of the Traditional Ways of Conceiving the National

8. Chapter 7 286–293
   The Fading of the 'Shadow Lines': Identity at Crossroads

9. Select Bibliography 294–304