It is with deepest gratitude that I acknowledge the inspiring guidance and continuous encouragement given by my supervisor Dr. M. K. Sen, Department of Pure Mathematics, University of Calcutta, throughout the period of my research work.

I am also indebted to Professor S. Ganguly of the said department and to Professor Amiya Mukherjee of Stat-Math. Division, I.S.I. Calcutta for their kind interest in my work and constant encouragement.

I also acknowledge my debts to Professor Jonathan S. Golan, Department of Mathematics and Computer Science, University of Haifa, Israel; I have already received some suggestions from him on my works and a paper, jointly with him, is communicated for publication. I have used a few results from it in the thesis.

Finally, I express my gratefulness to Professor H. J. Weinert, Technische Universitat Clausthal, Institut fur Mathematik, Deutschland, who gave some nice suggestions while commenting on some monuscripts of my papers; a paper, jointly with him, is under preparation; his suggestions incorporated in the thesis, have added to its beauty.

I also feel immense pleasure to thank Sri Sukumar Bej for the careful typing of the thesis with patience.
