ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

At the outset I must, first and foremostly, concede my indebtedness to my supervisor Dr. Tulsiram for his expert supervision and constant encouragement without which this thesis would not have possible. I would also extend my gratitude to Dr. Dawa Norbu whose august company enriched my analytical capability.

I am particularly thankful to Indian Council of Social Science Research for providing me financial assistance without which this work would have been difficult, if not impossible altogether.

I would take this occasion to thank library staff of J.N.U., IDSA, ICCR, for their unflinching support given to me during material collection.

I would also take this opportunity to express my sincere thanks to my friends who have been very generous to me over the years like Munindraji, Moonmoon, Kuhak, Dinesh Bhai, Tabrez (Barrel), Chris, Bhushan, Gautam (Ustadji), Mahinder, Atul, Nissim, Kanchan, Mathai, Rajesh (Pandey), Rajesh (Mangar), Nishant, Doya Sagar, Kavi, Siddhu, Shahab Bhai, Roomi Bhai, Naushad Bhai, P.C. Bhai and lots of other friends who have been constant source of inspiration and without whom life would not have been comfortable and easy through and through.
Lastly, I would also wish to thank my music guru Vidushi Sharmishtha Sen for her meta-academic transcendental contributions in my research work.

Finally I would also like to thank Asia Prints and all its staff for their impeccable manual work without whom this endeavour would not have seen light of the day.
