ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

I express my sincerest gratitude to those who have inspired, encouraged and helped me to accomplish the research work which would have been impossible without the blessings of the almighty God and the moral support of my family, relatives, friends and well-wishers. Words will not be enough to describe my feelings to those who helped me to realize the dream, cherished by my dearest mother Smt. Sushila Bhatt, who wanted to see one of her daughters to be a “Doctor” either in Medicine or in Literature! I am happy to state that in spite of being a single parent, she always supported us by giving us the strength to face the life as a challenge. She taught us that knowledge is power and achievement is the result of right decision and determination to implement it. She provided us with the academic environment and discipline in life. I sincerely acknowledge my indebtedness to her. No word of mine would express my feeling for the same fully.

I express my profound respect and gratitude to my supervisor Prof. Kamal Mehta, Professor and Head, Department of English and Comparative Literary Studies, Saurashtra University, Rajkot. I am extremely thankful to him for having faith in me and for your insightfulness and inspiring attitude that made my research-work a pleasant and memorable journey.

I thank Dr Jaydipsinh Dodiya, Dean, Arts Faculty for his help and support. I also thank Dr Sanjay Mukherjee and Dr Ravisinh Zala, the knowledgeable faculties of the Department of English and Comparative Literary Studies for their academic assistance. I thank the office staff of the Department of English and CLS Shree Atulbhai Mehta, Mrs Raniben Naidu and Rajubhai Bhatti for their cooperation.
I am indebted to my senior colleague and my mentor, Dr Pankaj L. Jani, former Vice Chancellor, Shree Somnath Sanskrit University, Veraval, who has always been my source of inspiration since I joined him as a lecturer in Government Arts College, Gandhinagar. I am thankful to him for his constant guidance and support.

I am extremely indebted to my senior colleague, Dr Arunendrasingh Rathore, Principal, Gujarat Arts and Science College, Ahmedabad, who remained a very useful link between me and Dr Shrawan Kumar Goswami, the writer of Jumletantram. I thank him for his academic guidance and moral support. I am sincerely thankful to the author, Dr Goswami for his warm responses to all my queries in time. He has given me a written interview which is very useful in my research work.

I thank Dr Ranjana Agarwal, Principal, H & H B Kotak Institute of Science, Rajkot, for her continuous support and inspiration. I take this opportunity to express my sincerest gratitude to Prof H P Buch, Former-Principal, H & H B Kotak Institute of Science, who took keen interest in my academic progress. I thank all my colleagues for their help, support and good wishes.

I am indebted to the librarians and staff of different libraries that have provided necessary materials pertaining to my research work. I thank everyone in the Central Library of Saurashtra University, Rajkot, the Library of the Department of English and Comparative Literary Studies, Rajkot, Gujarat Arts & Science College Library, Ahmedabad, Gujarat University Library, Ahmedabad, Lang Library, Rajkot and the District Library, Rajkot.

I am extremely indebted to my mother Sushila Bhatt, my elder sisters - Raksha, Neeta and Jaimini –for being supportive and inspiring. My family has never made me feel the absence of my father. I am equally thankful to my brothers-in-law - Vijaybhai Yagnik, Sunilbhai Korde and Vimalbhai Parekh - for their constant support. I never forget to thank specially my uncles, Prafulbhai Bhatt & Kanabhai Bhatt for their selfless love and care.
This doctoral dissertation would have never been completed without my nephews Mayuresh and Veer and my loving nieces Dhwani and Twisha whose knowledge of IT helped me a lot. I am thankful to them.

Again, I express my sincerest gratitude to all whose names I want to mention but formality does not allow here.

Gayatri K Bhatt
Asstt. Professor & Head,
Department of English,
H. & H. B. Kotak Institute of Science,
Rajkot.