ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

I would like to place on record that Prof. Tirthanath Bandyopadhyay who had kindly accepted my proposal to act as the guide in pursuing this thesis work entitled “An essay on Kant’s moral theory” in the Jadavpur University, Kolkata. I must acknowledge that Prof. Bandyopadhyay has been the immense source of inspiration ever since I made up my mind to pursue thesis work in the area of ‘ethics’. Further, I would like to add that my guide has taken extra-ordinary care since commencement of my work by way of his valued involvement in imparting oral coaching on a regular basis in the philosophy department of the University campus.

Moreover, I must concede that my guide has extended all kinds of assistance in the process of my pursuing this thesis work.

I, therefore, express my deep sense of gratitude to Prof. Bandyopadhyay from the core of my heart and hope to receive such guidance in my future endeavours. I am confident that I will continue to receive whole hearted co-operation in future occasions. Indeed, I am indebted to my guide in many ways.

Further, I must acknowledge the fulfledged support extended to me by Sm. Srilekha Dutta, the then head of the department of Philosophy, Jadavpur University, Kolkata, in regard to my registration in the Ph.D. programme.

Needless to mention that I had also received the whole-hearted co-operation from the teachers of the Jadavpur University at various stages of pursuing this work.

I am thankful to all those who are working in the library of the Jadavpur University, Kolkata, for their assistance and co-operation.
during the process of my doing this thesis work. Thanks to my colleagues, well wishers and friends who have extended their support and also inspiring me in successfully pursuing my work.

I can not forget the contributions of my relatives by their role as helping hands with sincerity throughout the conduct of this work.

I am thankful to Sm. Santwana Ghosh who had taken extra care in typing the manuscript and provided her support in composing the written matter to shape it into its final form.

I must mention the support received from all the non-teaching staff of Jadavpur University, Kolkata, during the course of my pursuing this work. They extended their co-operation whenever it was required. I feel obliged to them.