ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

‘In the name of ALLAH, the most beneficent and Merciful, whose benign benediction gave me the raged zeal which enabled me to complete this work. I express my deepest sense of gratitude thank to Almighty for bestowing upon me unfailing blessings and giving me strength to conduct this research. In obeisance I bow my head before Him in all humility and reverence.

First of all I want to express my gratitude to my esteemed supervisor Dr. P.K. Mona, Associate Professor, Department of Psychology, for her sympathetic guidance, valuable suggestions, meticulous discussions and expert opinion. Her constant encouragement, positive attitude, overall support and constructive criticism made the work to see the light of the day. Her constructive criticism has given the work, its concrete shape. I am heartily thankful to her for her supervision and support from the preliminary to the concluding level of this piece of research. I owe a heavy load of obligation to her for her scholarly ability, vast knowledge and experience, moreover for her keen interest, personal involvement and valuable co-operation.

I pay special thanks to Prof. P.K. Kalra, Director, D.E.I., Dayalbagh, Agra, whose kindness and amiable treatment has always filled me with interest in my work.

I whole thank Prof. Ira Das, Head, Department of Psychology, from the core of my heart, who has always been a source of constant support and encouragement. She has always been on my side and supported me towards the completion of my work.

I also thank my honorable teacher Prof. S.P. Sinha, whose kindness, timely inspiration and amiable treatment has always filled me with interest in my research work which has today got its final shape. I am highly thankful to Prof. Surila Agarwala, who has been a source of inspiration for me.

My thanks also go to all the respected teachers of the Department of Psychology, Dr. K.J. Sandhu, Dr. Preet Kumari, Dr. Kavita Kumar and Dr. Archana Satsangi. They all have been always as a good supporter and imparted the best of their knowledge to me.

I express my sincere and heartfelt gratitude to my teacher Mr. H.S. Srivastava, for his positive attitude and for giving me his precious time, He has helped me in Statistical Analysis of research data for my present research work. My sincere thanks go to the Mrs. Sunita Saxena and Dr. (Mrs.) Pritam Raj for being co-operative and helpful in more than one ways and providing all the necessary material for my research work, at every stage..

My felicitations also go to the University Grants Commission, New Delhi for providing financial assistance for my work, by means of MARFM fellowship.
I am also express my gratefulness to all the women and their families for the cooperation and help they rendered towards data collection phase of my research. They accepted to be a part of this research as subjects.

I place on record my special thanks to Dr. Mange Ram, the Librarian and staff members of the Central Library, D.E.I., Dayalbagh, Agra for readily providing me thier invaluable assistance at the time of need.

My thanks are also due to the Librarians and other Library staff of the libraries of various institutes such as S.N. Medical College (Agra), Jawaharlal Nehru Medical College (AMU, Aligarh), Maulana Azad Library (AMU, Aligarh) and Dr. B.B. Dixit Library (AIIMS, New Delhi) for providing me opportunity to consult the latest journals, books and freely use of online facilities.

I express my special thanks to well known endocrinologist Dr. Jamal Ahmad (Professor, Department of Medicine, J.N. Medical College, (AMU), Aligarh),and Padam Bhushan Dr. D.K. Hazra (Retd. Professor, Department of Medicine, S.N. Medical College, Agra) for their supported guidance, meticulous attention and valuable suggestions.

I have no words to record my indebtedness to my parents Mr. S.V.A. Qadri and Late (Mrs.) Ameena Bano, whose continues prayers, sacrifices, encouragement and keen interest in my research work which enabled me to accomplish this gigantic and most coveted task. My dreams of research would never have been fulfilled without their blessings and support during the span of this endeavour of mine.

I am indebted to my elder brothers Mr. Jamil Ahmad & Mr. Aqeel Ahmad, and my elder sisters Mrs. Salma Javed, Mrs. Nasreen Shahid Ali & Ms. Noorin, whose love, support, guidance and inspiration have always been my constant companion in every moment of my life. They deserve special mention and my gratefulness whatever each of them have done for me during years long course of completion of this piece of my present investigation. Thank you for being so supportive and caring siblings.

Lastly but by no means the least, I owe my deep sense of gratitude to Dr. Radha Bhatia, (Practicing Clinical Psychologist, New Jersey, U.S.A). I have no words to express my feelings for her support.

I am highly thankful to all my friends, particularly Mrs. Hemlata Kashyap, research scholars in the Department for their whole-hearted cooperation during my research work. A big thanks to my juniors for their love and support whenever required. My special thanks are also due to Dr. Ashima Srivastava & Dr. Shraddha Sharma the Post Doctoral Fellows in the Department for their help. I grateful to Mr. Kapil Harit, Ph.D. Scholars in the Department of Management for all the help he rendered.
The help at the time of need often come from unknown quarters too; it is not possible to acknowledge their help individually, I therefore, record my thankfulness to all of them. All my relatives, well-wishers and all those, who have contributed to a greater or lesser extent in the completion of this work, deserve my most sincere thanks.

In spite of all the sincere effort made by me and all the assistance provided by others to this end, I alone remain responsible for the contents of this thesis including any errors or omissions, which might have crept into it, unwittingly.

***