ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

Every researcher must feel a great indebtedness to the individuals and institutions without their help this research work could not have come to fruition. At each stage of my work, help was extended from a variety of sources. The idea of taking up research in the subject of image inscriptions of the Pāla-Sena period first came from my supervisor Dr. Sudipa Ray Bandyopadhyay, Associate Professor, Department of Ancient Indian History and Culture, University of Calcutta. Many helpful and pertinent suggestions in various stages of preparation of the thesis have come from her scholarly guidance. No words can convey my gratitude to her, for the effort she has put in for bringing the thesis in final shape.

I am thankful to my colleagues from Sanskrit College, Kolkata for their co-operation and words of encouragement. My special thanks are due to Dr. Upal Sen, Officer-in-Charge, Sanskrit College, Kolkata for his assistance and co-operation. I am grateful to Mrs. Kumkum Guha, Retd. Librarian, Sanskrit College and Mrs. Tapasree Das, former Librarian, Sanskrit College for their untiring support in course of my research work. I am also thankful to the authorities of University of Calcutta for giving me the permission to enjoy the benefit of continuity from my earlier Ph. D. Registration.

My sincere thanks are due to all the authorities of different Museums, Libraries and the individuals associated with it, for giving me an access to their collection for photographic documentations and data collection. I wished to thank especially Dr. Gautam Sengupta, Director of Archaeology & Museums, Government of West Bengal for giving me the permission for photography in the Malda Museum, Malda. I am equally thankful to the authorities and staff members of different Museums, The Indian Museum, Kolkata; Ashutosh Museum of Indian Art, University of Calcutta; State Archaeological Museum, Government of West Bengal; Sundarban Anchalik Samgrahasala, Baruipur; Ananda Niketan Kirtishala, Bagnan, Howrah; and also the Museums of Patna and Nalanda in Bihar.
The authorities and staff of different Libraries have extended their help in course of my work. This work would not have been possible without the co-operation of the library staffs of my College, Sanskrit College, Kolkata. Libraries like the Asiatic Society, Kolkata; the Ramakrishna Mission Institute of Culture, Golpark, The Central and Campus Library of the University of Calcutta, The National Library, Kolkata, The library of Centre for Archaeological Studies and Training, Eastern India, K. P. Jayaswal Research Institute, Patna.

Above all, I am beholden to my husband and my little daughter Shreemoyee for their patience. In the lengthy period of research and preparation of this thesis, over last ten years, my husband gave great encouragement and relieved me from some of my other obligations to enable me to work. I am indebted to both of them.
