ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

I am extremely grateful to Professor K.P. Saksena, under whose supervision and scholarly guidance this study has been carried out. Despite his busy academic schedule, he patiently pointed out my errors, clarified my inquisitive doubts and extended valuable suggestions and comments. Without his able guidance and constant encouragement, it would have been very difficult to complete the work in the present form.

I also owe a deep sense of gratitude to Professor M.S. Rajan, Professor T.T. Poulose, Mr Tashi Wangdi La and Ms Ida Van Gulik-Brvin for their encouragement in the course of this study.

I take this opportunity to thank Professor Samuel S. Kim, Professor Thomas P. Berstein, Professor A. Doak Barnett, Mr Robert G. Sutter and Mr Selig S. Harrison for spending their valuable time in sharing their views on the subject of this study during my field trip to the United States.

I must also express my sincere thanks and appreciation to Mr and Mrs Arthur Lall, Mr and Mrs Croker, Mr Tenzin T. Tethong, Mr Tenzin Chodak, Ms Carmen and Ms Francis Tharkey for making my trip to the United States a success.

I wish to acknowledge the cooperation and assistance of the staff of the following libraries: Indian Council of World Affairs Library, Nehru Memorial Library, Institute of Defense Studies and Analyses Library, Jawaharlal Nehru University Library, Lehman Library of Columbia University and the Library of Congress.
at Washington DC. My special thanks to Mrs V. Machwe for her painstaking help in locating materials.

Further, I wish to express my deep sense of gratitude to my parents and brothers who have encouraged me and bear all the inconvenience encountered.

I am also very grateful to Indian Council of Social Science Research for the fellowship that encouraged and sustained me throughout this study.

My sincere thanks to the School of International Studies (JNU) for sanctioning the field-trip grant which enabled me to enrichen the thesis by interviewing the UN diplomats, discussing with sinologists at the United States and above all, I could get access to some of the UN documents which are not available in India and use of the Lehman Library and the Library of Congress.

I also wish to thank Mr Shiv Sharma for typing the thesis and Ms Seema Khanwalkar for reading the draft.

Needless to say, none of them should be held accountable in any way for whatever errors and defects or for any particular views and interpretations reflected in this study.
