Acknowledgement

The completion of a dissertation for achieving the highest academic degree is a long journey and it would be a painful exercise without help and encouragement from the people of academic disciplines as well as social near and dear ones. I am thankful and convey my heartiest gratitude to them who directly or indirectly helped me to complete my journey. It may not be possible for me to mention the names of all the individuals who helped me in the preparation of this dissertation, so I beg apology for my inability.

First of all, I would like to convey my sincere gratitude to my supervisor Dr. Sharmistha Banerjee for her guidance and supervision. It would not be possible for me to complete this dissertation without her constant support and intense supervision. She has guided me in each and every aspect of my research work from the very beginning till its completion. This dissertation may not see the light of the day without her kind support and care. I am obliged and thankful to her for guiding me to complete this dissertation.

I would like to convey my gratitude to all my respondents for their kind cooperation by way of providing me the necessary information, the prime requirement of this dissertation. Without their help and kind cooperation it would not be possible for me to complete this dissertation.

I would like to convey my heartiest thanks to Rev. Dr. J. Felix Raj, S.J. (Principal), Rev. Dr. Dominic Savio S.J., (Rector and Vice-Principal), Prof. Ashis Mitra
(Member Secretary, Academic Council), Prof. Swapan Banerjee (Dean of Studies, Department of Commerce) and my friends and colleagues of my own institution St. Xavier’s College (Autonomous), Kolkata, for their constant support and encouragement. I would like to convey my special thanks to my senior colleague Dr. Smarajit Lahiri Chakravarty for giving me the opportunity to come in contact with the scholars of Indian Statistical Institute which benefitted me immensely.

I would like to convey my heartiest gratitude to Dr. Subhendu Chakrabarti of Economic Research Unit, Indian Statistical Institution, Kolkata, for providing me resourceful matters from the very beginning to the end of my dissertation. His advice and unsurpassed knowledge, flexibility in scheduling, gentle encouragement and relaxed demeanor was created a good working relationship. He encouraged me to think indepth of the problem of my present dissertation and that actually uplifted my basic knowledge of multidimensional academic philosophical aspects. His unparallel guidance without any vested interest has enlightened me in such a way that I took no pain to work with him during the entire period.

I would like to convey my gratitude to Dr. Radhanath Pyne, Head, Department of Commerce, Jaipuria College, for introducing me to my guide and his encouragement in research work. I really feel indebted to Mr. Mriganco Mazumdar, HR Manager of IBM, Kolkata, who gave me time within his busy schedules and enrich my background knowledge about IT/ ITeS sector as well as IT professionals.

No word is enough to express my heartiest gratitude to my parents, Sri. Biresh Chandra Guha and Smt. Dipty Guha. Their unbounded love, affection and encouragement in every stage of my life are irrefutable. During the preparation of this dissertation, despite their old age problems, they have constantly encouraged me with their love and affection to go ahead. Their contribution to my life is beyond the horizon of my academic career. At this juncture I can only express my heartfelt gratitude to my parents by telling them to please stay with me forever and give me the opportunity to fulfill the duties of a daughter by the grace of your blessings.

My acknowledgement would be incomplete if I fail to acknowledge the contribution of my old grand mother, Smt. Parimal Ghosh, and of my only elder sister, Smt. Mallika Roy Choudhury. My old grand mother is my friend, philosopher and guide and her love, affection and encouragement in every activity of my life is unforgettable. On the other hand, my elder sister is my immediate guardian since my childhood and her love, affection and undeniable support to my academic activities has given me additional boost ups in the preparation of this dissertation. I convey my heartiest gratitude to my old grand mother and to my elder sister for their immense contributions towards building of my morale and academic career.

In spite of my sincere efforts some unintended errors might be there in the dissertation. In this connection I am admitting that I am solely responsible for any kind of errors and inadequacies that may remain in this dissertation.

Place: Kolkata                                                                                Sumana Guha
Date: 8\textsuperscript{th} March, 2014.