PhD is not only about solving a scientific problem, it is also a life changing experience where a scholar learns to apply his ideas, plan an experiment and execute it properly. It teaches us to accept a number of failures, solve a number of problems before getting it just right. All these years in the Department of Biophysics, Molecular Biology and Bioinformatics, University of Calcutta as a PhD scholar has been an amazing experience. I would like to use this opportunity to thank and acknowledge.

I would like to express my sincere gratitude to my supervisor Professor Sarmistha Raychaudhuri for being a constant inspiration. Her guidance, motivation, immense knowledge and experience helped me in my research and writing of this thesis. She has always provided the academic and emotional support to overcome any problem. I could not have imagined having a better advisor and mentor for my PhD study.

I would like to thank UGC for awarding a National Eligibility Test (NET) fellowship (UGC/542/Jr. Fellow(Sc.)).

Besides my advisor, I would like to thank Prof. Abhay Sankar Chakraborti, Prof. Pradeep K. Sengupta, Prof. Subhasis Mukherjee, Dr. Ansuman Lahiri, Dr. Shukla Ghosh, Prof. Sudip Kundu, Dr. Sumita Sen Gupta and Dr. Runa Sur. I sincerely acknowledge the help provided by the non teaching staff of our department.
I would especially like to thank my labmates Ananya Paul, Subhendu Bandopadhyay, Arpita Mukherjee, Shonima Talapatra, Amitava Moulick, Nirmalya Ghoshal, Suman Kumar Ray, Pratik Talukder, Debangana Kundu, Paulami Pramanick, Subhasree Das, and Anwesh Roy. All of you have been there to support me. I also show appreciation towards all the scholars in this department.

I am indebted to IIPR, Kanpur, India for providing the seeds needed for my research. I am also grateful to UGC DAE Consortium for Scientific Research, Kolkata centre for providing me with gamma irradiation facility.

Last but not the least, I would like to thank my father Mrinal Sen Gupta, mother Mandira Sen Gupta, wife Sudarshana Sen Gupta, my family and friends and Bhuku, my furry child, who has supported me in every possible way to see the completion of this work.
