 CONTENTS

PREFACE

ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

CHAPTER 1 ORIGIN AND DEVELOPMENT OF ECONOMIC INDEPENDENCE

Soviet Theories of International Law

Concept of 'Concordance of Will'

International Law as an Instrument of Soviet Foreign Policy

Origin of Soviet Principles of International Law

CHAPTER 2 PERMANENT SOVEREIGNTY OVER NATURAL WEALTH AND RESOURCES - I

Right to Nationalization

Conditions for Nationalization

Non-discriminatory Character

Compensation

CHAPTER 3 PERMANENT SOVEREIGNTY OVER NATURAL WEALTH AND RESOURCES - II

Settlement of Disputes

Legal Status of Concessionary Agreements and Private Contracts

Observance of Agreements

CHAPTER 4 ECONOMIC AND TECHNICAL ASSISTANCE

Need for a Legal Regime

Transfer of Resources through Private Persons

Official Economic Assistance to the Developing Countries

Terms of Technical Assistance to the Developing Countries
CHAPTER 5  TRADE: A NECESSARY ELEMENT IN ECONOMIC INDEPENDENCE
Fundamental Principles of International Law to Govern Trade Relations between States

Expansion of Markets for Exports of the Developing Countries

Ensuring Just and Remunerative Prices for Exports from the Developing Countries

Reduction of Costs of Invisible Trade

CHAPTER 6  CONCLUSIONS

BIBLIOGRAPHY

...