Acknowledgement

There are several people who helped me in the creation and completion of this work, and to them I offer my sincere gratitude. First, I am indebted to my SUPERVISOR, Prof. Harendra Nath Bhattacharya for suggesting me the problem, for his encouragement during the work, and particularly for his patient support. His knowledge in the particular subject and his vast field experience were also a big advantage for me.

I would like to thank Dr. Abhijit Chakraborty of the Department of Geology, Jogamaya Devi College, Kolkata, who encouraged and supported me throughout the course of work.

I am very grateful to Dr. Biplab Bhattacharya of the Department of Earth Sciences, Indian Institute of Technology, Roorkee, for his encouragement and suggestions. I am also thankful to all of my friends and colleagues who have encouraged me during the work.

I would like to acknowledge and thank Mrs. Baishali Sarkar for her help in checking spelling and grammar in the final thesis volume. I appreciate the assistance of Mr. Debanu Das, Mr. Parimal De, Ms. Anurupa Basak and Mrs. Priyanka Dey during field work. Finally, I would like to thank my family – Keya, my wife and Kanko, my son, and my parents, without their love and support it would not have been possible to get this research work done.
