List of Figures

3.1 Schematic Representation of Research Design 61
3.2 Mean Age of Women and Men and their respective partners 77
3.3 Mean Family Income of the Women and the Men and their respective partners 77
3.4 The percentage of the Women sample, and their partners, studying in Undergraduate classes and Postgraduate classes 78
3.5 The percentage of the Men sample, and their partners, studying in Undergraduate classes and Postgraduate classes 78
3.6 The percentage of the Women sample, and their partners, those who were single child, had only one sibling, or had two siblings 79
3.7 The percentage of the Men sample, and their partners, those who were single child, had only one sibling, or had two siblings 79
3.8 The percentage of the Women sample, and their partners, who reported that their fathers were in Jobs/Services, doing Businesses, and Retired from Jobs. 80
3.9 The percentage of the Men sample, and their partners, who reported that their fathers were in Jobs/Services, doing Businesses, and Retired from Jobs. 80
3.10 The percentage of the Women sample, and their partners, whose mothers were working outside, and not working or housewives. 81
3.11 The percentage of the Men sample, and their partners, whose mothers were working outside, and not working or housewives. 81
3.12 The percentage of the Women sample, and their partners, who came from Nuclear Families and from Extended Families. 82
3.13 The percentage of the Women sample, and their partners, who came from Nuclear Families and from Extended Families. 82
3.14 The mean Length of Acquaintance with partners for Women and Men. 83
3.15 The means of the Frequency of Meeting the partner, and the Frequency of Exclusively Meeting the partner, for Women and Men sample.

4.1 Venn diagram showing the overlap of the 3 different type of conflict tactics used by the Total (SELF) sample

4.2 Venn diagram showing the overlap of the 3 different types of conflict tactics used by the Women (SELF) sample

4.3 Venn diagram showing the overlap of the 3 different types of conflict tactics used by the Men (SELF) sample

4.4 Venn diagram showing the overlap of the 3 different types of conflict tactics used by the Men (PARTNER) sample