Contents

Introduction – Page (1 – 3)

Chapter – 1
Technology and Reproduction – Page (4 - 20)

1.1. Traditional form of technological instruments: Use of material object as instrument – Page 4.

1.2. Biology as technology—Use of living organisms as instruments – Page 4.

1.3. Technology and moral value – Page 5.

2. Technology for controlling the quality of off-spring – Page 15

3. Uses of reproductive materials for non-reproductive purposes – Page 16

4. Assisted Reproductive technology (ART) to resolve the problem of childlessness of substitute-fertile and infertile couples – Page 16

Chapter – 2
Different Types, Alternative Names, Various Uses, Mythological References and Response of Three Religious institutions – Page (21 – 41)

2.2. Distinction between traditional notion of motherhood and alternative forms of motherhood – Page 21.

2.3. High-tech forms of surrogacy: Traditional and Gestational – Page 22.

2.4. Another Classification of Surrogacy: Commercial and Altruistic – Page 23.

2.5. Different formulations of alternative motherhood – Page 24.

2.8 Use of surrogates in scientific experiments – Page 30.
2.9 Various alternative names of surrogacy and their justifications – Page 31.
2.11 Three religious institutions: Christianity, Islam and Hinduism on surrogacy – Page 34.
2.12 Notes and References – Page 40.

Chapter - 3
Arguments defending surrogacy – Page (42 – 64)

3.1 Reasons for late progress in Reproductive sciences – Page 43.
3.2 The first social practice which fragments parenthood: Adoption – Page 43.
3.3 Limitations of adoption – Page 44.
3.4 Surrogate motherhood: an alternative employment – Page 46.
3.5 In defense of surrogacy: Three constitutional rights of US: Right to procreate, right to make a free contract and right to privacy – Page 46.
3.6 Defense from gender neutrality – Page 49.
3.7 Families by choice: formations of families by same-sex couple – Page 49.
3.8 Families by choice: formations of families by individual – Page 51.
3.9 Theoretical Defenses: various economic and moral doctrines – Page 52.

Chapter – 4
Moral Disputes regarding surrogate motherhood – Page (65 - 208)

4. (A) Surrogacy and baby selling – Page (68 - 86)

4. (A). 1 Commercial surrogacy—a form of baby-selling – Page 68
4. (A). 3 Arguments for the Service Model – Page 70
4. (A). 7 Surrogacy as a service-contract with success clauses – Page 79
4. (A). 8 Kornegay’s observation – Page 80
4. (B) Surrogate motherhood and Exploitation – Page (87 - 110)

4. (B). 1 Moral and non-moral exploitation – Page 87
4. (B). 2 Harmful exploitation and mutually advantageous exploitation – Page 88
4. (B). 3 Consensual and non-consensual exploitation – Page 88
4. (B). 4 Surrogate motherhood and Exploitation – Page 90
4. (B). 5
   I) Surrogacy as harmful, non-consensual exploitation – Page 90
4. (B). 5.A Harm-factors related to the women who act as surrogate mothers
   □ Harms related to Health- factors – Page 91
   □ Psychological Harms – Page 96
   □ Financial Harms – Page 98
   □ Exploitation, coercion and valid consent – Page 99
4. (B). 5. B Harm to the child born – Page 100
4. (B). 5. C Harm to the intending or commissioning couple – Page 103
4. (B). 5. D Harm to society as a whole – Page 104
4. (B). 6
   II). Surrogacy as mutually advantageous and consensual exploitation – Page 105
4. (B). 7 Our assessment– Page 110

4. (C) Surrogacy and Commodification (111 - 133)

4. (C). 1 Definitions of commodification – Page 111
4. (C). 2 The scope of market: Views of Pro-commodificationist and anti-commodificationist camp – Page 112
4. (C). 3 Margaret Jane Radin – Page 114
4. (C). 5 Elizabeth Anderson – Page 120
4. (C). 5. 1
   □ Commodification of child – Page 121
4. (C). 5. 2
   □ Commodification of women and her reproductive labor – Page 123
      ➢ Asymmetry thesis: Pateman’s Version – Page 123
      ➢ Asymmetry thesis: Anderson’s Version – Page 125
4. (C). 6 Kant, categorical Imperative and surrogacy – Page 128
4. (C). 7 Reply to the alleged commodification of children and woman – Page 128
4. (C). 8 Reply to Commodification of children – Page 129
4. (C). 9 Reply to alleged commodification of women and their reproductive labor: Critical assessments of Anderson’s asymmetry thesis – Page 131
4. (C). 10 Our assessment – Page 132
4. (D) Surrogacy and Prostitution – Page (134 - 151)

4. (D). 1 Definition of Prostitution – Page 134
4. (D). 2 Prostitution as a form of commercial sex – Page 135
4. (D). 3 Unique features of prostitution – Page 135
4. (D). 4 Prostitution, Temple Priestess and Marriage – A comparison – Page 136
4. (D). 5 Distinctive features of Marriage and its significance – Page 138
4. (D). 6 Surrogate motherhood is a novel form of prostitution—some similarities – Page 139
4. (D). 7 Surrogate motherhood – “a form of exploitation analogous to prostitution”—Feminist interpretations – Page 142
4. (D). 8 Reproduction—views of different wings of feminism – Page 143
4. (D). 10 Notes and References – Page 151

4. E Impact of Third Party Intrusion on Kinship Reckoning and Formation of Family – Page (152 - 169)

4. E. 1 Kinship—an anthropological definition – Page 152
4. E. 2 Kinship and Descent System – Page 153
4. E. 3 A connection between two domains—Domain of Nature and Domain of Culture – Page 154
4. E. 4 Two models of Kinship: Biological and Non-biological Model – Page 154
4. E. 5 Euro-American notion of kinship: Significant role of biogenetics – Page 155
4. E. 6 Cultural shift from Patrilineal to Bilineal Ancestry – Page 156
4. E. 7 Some Non-biological models of kinship – Page 156
4. E. 8 Nuer and Dinka Children – Page 157
4. E. 9 Kinship in Langkawi Island of Malaysia – Page 157
4. E. 10 Milk-kinship – Page 158
4. E. 11 Zumbaguan notion of kinship – Page 158
4. E. 12 A comparison between two models of kinship—Biological and Non-biological – Page 158
4. E. 13 Unique features of Biological—Euro-American notion of kinship – Page 159
4. E. 14 The effects of new Assisted Reproductive Technologies on these two models – Page 160
4. E. 15 Assisted reproductive technologies and changes in our cultural understanding – Page 162
4. E. 16 Our Assessment – Page 168

4. (F) Surrogacy and Slavery (170 - 190)

4. (F). 1 Unique features of slavery – Page 171
4. (F). 2 Antebellum Slavery – Page 172
4. (F). 3 Distinctive features of Antebellum slavery – Page 173
4. (F). 4
I. Common features of slavery and surrogacy
   (a) Comparison between a slave child and child born through surrogacy – Page 175
   (b) Resemblances between a slave-mother and a surrogate-mother – Page 176
4. (F). 5
II. Comparison from feminist standpoint – Page 177
   (a) Role of various stereotypes under slave-systems: Gender stereotype, Racial stereotype, Class stereotype and Sexual stereotype – Page 178
   (b) Women and the interplay between race, gender and class stereotypes – Page 180
4. (F). 6
III. Three mothers—Mary Beth Whitehead, Roxana and Rosa—A Comparison – Page 182
   (a) Some resemblances – Page 183
4. (F). 7 Our assessment – Page 186
4. (F). 8 Notes and References – Page 189

4.(G) Autonomy, Reproductive Autonomy and Surrogate Motherhood (191-207)

4. (G). 1 The outcomes of Medical Paternalism – Page 192
4. (G). 2 Significance of Individual Autonomy: In the form of Informed Consent – Page 193
4. (G). 3 Several forms of Reproductive Coercion – Page 193
4. (G). 4 Recognition of Reproductive Autonomy: The role of law, technology and Second-wave Feminism – Page 196
4. (G). 5 Traditional interpretation of reproduction and unified image of a mother – Page 197
4. (G). 6 Liberal interpretation of Reproductive Autonomy – Page 197
4. (G). 7 Reproductive Autonomy—Various Interpretations – Page 198
   ➢ Procreative Autonomy: Dworkin’s interpretation – Page 198
   ➢ Reproductive Autonomy: Laura Purdy’s View – Page 199
   ➢ Reproductive Liberty: Harris’ version – Page 200
   ➢ Procreative liberty: Robertson’s version – Page 200
4. (G). 8 Surrogate motherhood and reproductive autonomy – Page 203
4. (G). 9 Impacts of unlimited reproductive autonomy – Page 205

Chapter – 5
Roots of Moral Debate – Page (209 - 221)

5.1 On moral Issues – conflict between Utilitarianism and Deontological Approach – Page 211
5.2 Utilitarianism vs Deontology – Page 212
5.3 On socio-political issues – conflicts between different wings of feminism – Page 216
5.4 Our assessment – Page 221

Chapter - 6
Surrogacy and legal concerns – Page (222 - 245)

6.1 A GLOBAL VIEW OF SURROGACY LAW (TABLE - 1) – Page 226
6.2 Various Lawsuits – Page 229
   A. In the matter of Baby M, New Jersey, 1988 – Page 229
   B. Adoption of Matthew B., Nancy B vs Charlotte M and Timothy M, (Court of Appeal of California, 1991 – Page 230
   C. Anna Johnson vs Mark Calvert, Supreme Court of California, 1993 – Page 231
   D. Belsito vs Clark, Ohio Court, 1994. – Page 232
   E. Jaycee Buzzanca vs The Superior Court of Orange County, 1996. – Page 233
   F. Judy Stiver and Ray Stiver vs Philip J. Parker and others, United States Court of Appeals. – Page 234
6.3 COMPARISON BETWEEN DIFFERENT LAWSUITS (TABLE - 2) – Page 235
6.4 Need for a new definition of parenthood – Page 238
6.5 Our assessment – Page 241
   A. Baby Manji Yamada Vs. Union of India, 2008. – Page 243

Conclusion – Page (246 - 256)

Bibliography – Page (257 - 272)